

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Whereas, by an act of the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, filed in the office of the secretary of state, February 16, 1891, a corporation known as the "Port of Portland" was created, embracing within its limits certain portions of Multnomah county; and, whereas, the object of the creation of said corporation was to improve the Willamette river at the cities of Portland, East Portland, and Albina (now consolidated and embraced within the city of Portland, Multnomah county, Oregon,) and the Willamette and Columbia rivers between said cities and the sea, so that there should be made and permanently maintained in said Willamette and Columbia rivers, from said city to the sea, a ship channel of good and sufficient depth at all points at mean low water; and, whereas, said act incorporating said port of Portland provides for the issuance of five hundred thousand dollars in bonds or notes for a certain term of years, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, all in United States gold coin; and, whereas, said act gives said corporation the authority to assess and collect taxes on all property within its boundaries which is by law taxable for state and county purposes at a certain specified rate sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption of the same; and, whereas, the said corporation so created was organized, and commissioners appointed to exercise the powers conferred upon it; and, whereas, since the creation and organization of said port of Portland, the said corporation has realized three hundred and ten thousand dollars from the sale of the bonds authorized by said act, which said money has been expended in the improvement of the said Willamette and Columbia rivers under the supervision of the officers of the United States government, and which said sum the said port of Portland commission is now obligated to pay; and, whereas, thirty-seven thousand seven hundred and twenty-nine dollars and seventy-seven cents has been paid by said port of Portland in interest on said bonds; and, whereas, the said sum, to wit, three hundred and ten thousand dollars, has been expended in the improvement of said rivers by dredging and constructing permanent dykes beyond the limits of the said district embraced within the limits of said corporation; and, whereas, the remaining portion of said money has been expended in the necessary improvement of said rivers and the harbors thereof; and, whereas, the money so expended by said corporation inures to the benefit of the state of Oregon and the country at large, and the improvements accomplished thereby are of a nature generally and properly undertaken by the general government; therefore,

Be it resolved by the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, That congress be requested to reimburse the port of Portland in the full sum or the amount expended by said port of Portland in making the improvements aforesaid, and in paying interest on the bonds heretofore issued for such purpose, and that provision be made by the general government for the payment of the interest yet to accrue on said bonds now outstanding.

Be it further resolved, That the government of the United States assume full charge of the work heretofore completed and now being performed by said port of Portland, and provide for the maintenance of the same.

Resolved by the Senate of the State of Oregon, the House concurring, That in the death of ex-Governor Chadwick the state of Oregon has lost one of its eminent and most patriotic citizens. Born and reared in rugged New England fitted him for the part he always took in the pioneer life and progress of the state of his adoption, which he loved so well; his intellectual powers, his breadth of mind and grasp of public affairs made him one of the leaders among his fellow-citizens. Over and above these faculties, his knowledge of public affairs, his wit and power, he was an affectionate, lovable man, esteemed by all who knew him, which causes him to be mourned today not only by his friends, but by many who had no personal acquaintance with him.

Resolved, That the citizens of the state of Oregon, in the death of her distinguished son, have lost one whose intercourse was always instructive, helpful and kindly, whose generous impulses found their expression in many benevolent acts, and whose distinguished career and patriotic devotion to his country and state coming men may well strive to emulate.

Resolved, That the sympathy and condolence of this legislative assembly be extended to his sorrowing family, whose affliction is so much greater than ours, and whose grief can only be alleviated by Him whose sustaining arm can best support them in their irreparable loss.

Resolved, That an engrossed copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and be made a part of the records of this body.

EDUCATIONAL FUND.

The total amount of the common school fund was as follows on January 1st of the years mentioned:—

1885 .....	$ 868,735 16
1887 .....	1,059,409 01
1889 .....	1,756,700 90
1891 .....	2,203,554 86
1893 .....	2,418,636 71
1895 .....	2,450,521 19

The interest from such fund has been distributed as follows:—

	Per capita.	Total.
1890 .....	$ 145 00	$ 144,372 75
1891 .....	145 00	153,151 90
1892 .....	145 00	162,066 30
1893 .....	140 00	168,903 00
1894 .....	87 00	107,698 82

On January 1, 1895, the total amounts of the other trust funds were as follows:—

Agricultural college .....	$ 129,752 12
State university .....	105,845 80

Interest has been paid during the past two years on such funds:

Agricultural college .....	$ 16,751 79
State university .....	12,673 61

The amounts loaned from the school funds for the last biennial three terms are as follows:—

1889-90 .....	$ 911,243 00
1891-92 .....	711,160 00
1893-94 .....	536,239 00

From the above figures it will be seen that the very same cause which is stagnating our general industries and impoverishing our people, is laying its impious hand on the school fund of the state by lessening the values of the securities on which it is based, and diminishing the amount apportioned to the common schools for their support.

LAND DEPARTMENT.

Swamp land, patented to the state in 1893-94 .....	1,994.47 acres
Swamp land, certified to the state in 1893-94 .....	2,088.32 acres
Whole amount patented .....	156,873.15 acres
Whole amount certified and not patented .....	90,080.72 acres
Whole amount examined and not certified .....	38,568.68 acres

LIEU SCHOOL LANDS.

In the Cascade reservation there are about two hundred thousand acres of land, embraced in sections 16 and 36, for which the state is entitled to that amount of lieu land, which may be selected from the best portions of the public domain. The price of school lands under the law is one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, and, as these lieu lands are really worth more, I have steadily refused to allow one single acre of school lands in that reservation to be used as a basis for lieu lands until the legislature can change the price of such lands to two dollars and fifty cents per acre. If this change is made, about two hundred and fifty thousand dollars will go into the school fund, which amount, if the law is not changed, will go into the pockets of speculators.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT.

During my incumbency of office the state of Oregon has most materially lengthened its cords and strengthened its stakes in regard to all of its public institutions. The capitol has been entirely completed and newly roofed, and all of our public institutions are fully equipped for all requirements, not only for the present, but for the immediate future. The asylum now owns one thousand two hundred acres of land, the penitentiary one hundred and sixty-nine acres, the reform school six hundred acres, the deaf-mute school one hundred acres, and the Eastern Oregon asylum six hundred and twenty acres of valuable land. During the last eight years, there have been expended for land and improvements the following amounts:—

Penitentiary improvements .....	$ 47,615 20
Asylum improvements .....	341,815 10
Capitol improvements .....	147,956 75
Reform school improvements .....	168,816 59
Agricultural college improvements .....	88,709 80
State university improvements .....	25,000 00
Mute school improvements .....	32,497 00
Blind school improvements .....	12,226 25
Eastern Oregon asylum .....	28,881 03

Of this amount, three hundred and four thousand one hundred and sixty-four dollars and thirty-three cents were expended during the last two years. All of the public buildings are first-class, and a levy of eighty thousand dollars has been made, which will be sufficient to start the Eastern Oregon asylum on the cottage plan and furnish additional cells for the penitentiary. All these improvements have been made during these hard times, and the state of Oregon is out of debt, although there is due, on January 1, 1895, and unpaid to the state from the several counties, the sum of two hundred and forty-two thousand five hundred and ninety-seven dollars and eighty-nine cents.

But this is not the full extent of public improvements. During the last eight years, there have been expenditures for wagon roads and a portage road, and the five per cent. and direct tax funds have been distributed among the several counties, so that the total amounts of expenditures on account of public improvements is as follows:—

Public land and buildings .....	$ 890,017 74
Wagon roads .....	116,000 00
Five per cent. and direct tax funds .....	111,576 76
Portage road .....	63,801 97

THE STATE FOUNDRY PLANT.

Sixty-five thousand dollars was appropriated by the last legislature for the purchase of the foundry plant at the penitentiary. Forty thousand dollars were paid for it and the balance was put into stock for the business. Close following the purchase came the business depression which affected all industries, and which very naturally depressed the demands for the foundry products. As a result the foundry was run on limited time and with limited profits. The business since the state assumed control up to the first of the year shows a profit of sixteen thousand eight hundred and seventy-two dollars and eighty cents, and allowing forty cents a day for convict labor, it still shows a profit of four thousand and twenty-eight dollars and twenty-four cents, which is a much better exhibit than a very large portion of business firms in Oregon can show which have been doing business outside the penitentiary walls.

THE PARDONING POWER.

Some criticism has been made in regard to the exercise of the pardoning power and it has even been asserted that such power should not exist. That power is the highest and most necessary prerogative in a civilized government. If courts and juries were infallible there would be no necessity for its exercise, but so long as they are not infallible, so long there is an absolute necessity for the lodgment somewhere of that very necessary power. In the great majority of the cases in which I have exercised executive clemency, aside from those earning time as trustees, it has been upon the recommendation of the judge, jury, or prosecuting attorney. I have endeavored in all cases to exercise that high prerogative conscientiously and without any regard whatever for newspaper cavil or popular clamor.

FORMER RECOMMENDATIONS.

While I shall not presume to make any recommendations whatever to this legislative assembly, I will, however, mention those recommendations which I have formerly made, and concerning which no legislative action has been taken:

1. A change in the assessment law, compelling, under penalty, all notes not annually given to the assessor and stamped by him, to be one half forfeited to the school fund.

2. The abolition of all the unnecessary commissions.

3. A law establishing maximum rates for railroad and telegraph companies, fixing passenger rates at two and one half cents per mile, and prohibiting the use of free passes.

4. A law allowing municipalities to fix maximum rates on all local monopolies.

5. A law authorizing the governor, in case of violation of state laws, to employ a person to secure evidence and commence prosecution in the courts for the punishment of offenders.

6. A law giving to all state, district, and county officers a fixed salary, or establishing a maximum compensation.

7. A general municipal incorporation law applicable to all cities.

8. A change in the road law so as to secure good roads.

9. A law providing for the arrest and punishment of armed men in private employ.

10. The passage of an inheritance tax law.

12. Authority to the school commissioners to withhold from any county its school fund until the state taxes from said county have been paid to the state treasurer.

13. The creation of a state auditing board consisting of the three principal state officers.

14. No further illegal appropriation of money by joint resolution.

15. A change in the law relating to the conveyance of criminals and insane persons.

16. No state appropriation for the militia, leaving to the several counties the support of their own companies.

17. Enactment of a registration law for cities of five thousand inhabitants and over.

18. Purchase of the Willamette locks, or reduction of toll fifty per cent.

19. No appropriation for state or district fairs, or a just distribution of moneys now appropriated to the several counties.

20. Repeal of the specific contract law, and making void all contracts discriminating against any lawful money.

21. Abolition of all fish traps, wheels, and seines.

22. Fixing the price of school lieu lands at two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

23. No further appropriation for other than common schools.

24. Instructing our delegation in congress to secure a restriction of the jurisdiction of the inferior federal courts to what it was under the judiciary act of 1789, or to confine it exclusively to admiralty and maritime cases; or better still, to abolish those courts entirely.

CONCLUSION.

Grateful to the people for their bestowed confidence, thankful to all my associates for their uniform courtesies, and wishing for the incoming administration abundant success, I now relinquish, with a conscience void of offense, the great trust assigned me, sincerely imploring the blessing of Almighty God upon our beloved commonwealth.

The Hon. R. S. Bean, chief justice of the supreme court of the state of Oregon, duly administered the oath of office to the Hon. Wm. P. Lord, who subscribed his name thereto.

Thereupon, the president introduced Governor Wm. P. Lord, who spoke as follows:—

INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Trusting for guidance and wisdom from Him who doeth all things well, I appear before you, in assuming the duties of the office of governor of this state, to which I have been chosen by the suffrages of the people, with a profound sense of my obligations and responsibilities, to make such suggestions and recommendations in reference to the affairs of the state as seem to be appropriate and expedient. The duty devolved upon the governor by the constitution, to communicate to the legislature the condition of the state and to recommend such measures to it as he may deem expedient, would seem more properly to belong to the retiring governor, whose official experience during his term enables him to acquire a special knowledge of the various institutions of the state and the measures deemed essential to promote its progress and prosperity, which particularly qualify him for the performance of such duty, than to the incoming governor, who, just called from another occupation which has absorbed his time and attention, could hardly be expected to possess the kind of knowledge which would qualify him to enter into a consideration in detail of the various matters of state, or to recommend measures of special significance for the development of its interests and the wants of its people. But, be that as it may, I trust it may not be inappropriate for me to avail myself of this occasion to extend to the retiring governor, who brought probity and ability to his office, our thanks for many acts of public merit and our best wishes for his personal happiness and prosperity; and, also, on my own behalf, to express to the people of the state, through you, their chosen representatives, my grateful appreciation of the distinguished honor conferred upon me, and my earnest hope to perform the duties devolving upon me with fidelity to their interests and with credit to the state, to the end that they may have no cause to regret the generous confidence reposed in me.

RESOURCES OF THE STATE.

I greet you, gentlemen of the legislature, at the beginning of the new year, although the skies are not bright with promise, with an abiding faith in the future of Oregon. Our state is endowed with great resources and natural advantages, the development of which, under industrial influences, will insure its growth and enrichment. Its soil is fertile, and its fields yield generous harvests; its ranges are excellent feeding grounds for the raising of stock; its mines, though only partially developed and utilized, are rich in mineral wealth; its forests are studded with an almost inexhaustible supply of timber; its waterways are extensive, and afford unequaled advantages for commerce; its harbors are safe and commodious; its water powers are unlimited in capacity and extent, offering unrivaled facilities for manufacturing enterprises; its climate is healthful, and its plains and mountain ranges combine beauty and grandeur of scenery. Here within our own borders are all the material elements and advantages that attract men of enterprise and capital to make investments in commercial and business activities and to establish manufacturing and mechanical industries, which, in the progress of time, will give employment to many laboring people, build up towns and cities, increase our wealth and population, and lay deep and strong the foundations of our general prosperity. Already considerable capital has been invested in our state, devoted to the enlargement of some of our existing institutions, and to the creation of new enterprises and business ventures. Many railroad lines have been constructed within our territory that have afforded an outlet for our products and opened up additional avenues for trade and commerce. In the mean time the growth of our cities and towns has been steady and rapid, the value of property has greatly increased, and improvements of a public and private character have marked our advancement. All around us there are tangible evidences of the industrial activity of our people and the growth and development of our state, and with national legislation not unfavorable to us, the future of Oregon is full of promise of a rich inheritance to its inhabitants.

CAUSES OF DEPRESSION.

But, unfortunately, some national legislation at first threatened, and some since enacted, has had the effect to cripple the industries of the country, cause depression in the value of property and its products, disturb business relations, stagnate trade and commerce, create distrust and uncertainty in our monetary affairs and a deficit in the national treasury, abridge the demand for labor and render its employment unremunerative, by reason whereof, the country is plunged into a profound financial and commercial depression, which grievously burdens our people and serves to retard the general progress and development of the state. This is a condition of things from which the country can expect no permanent relief until wiser councils shall prevail in the management of our national affairs and induce legislation calculated to protect the industrial interests of our people, and, at the same time, by its offer of reciprocal advantages, retain and foster trade with foreign nations.

NECESSITY FOR ECONOMY.

Under these circumstances, when the opportunities for business and labor are contracted and scarce; when the farmer, though his harvest be abundant, finds no profit in his crop; when hard times are upon us, rendering it especially difficult for the laboring masses to make comfortable provision for their families; when all classes engaged in trade or business are husbanding their resources and practicing a rigorous economy to avoid loss and preserve their commercial standing, it behooves you, upon whom rests the authority to levy taxes and direct the expenditures of the public moneys, to make no appropriation of them except it be for a public purpose and its necessity be clearly shown, and to withhold all appropriations which will bear delay, or can be postponed, in order that the burdens of the people may not be unnecessarily increased and their property be subjected to a tax lien to defray needless public expenditures. It is not only desirable that economy should characterize all your appropriations, but at the present time it is absolutely indispensable to the public welfare. No good citizen will find fault with a public expenditure which is essential to the public service, but all will feel aggrieved, and have a right to complain, when the expenditure authorized is unnecessary or extravagant. The people have a right to require that public business should be conducted on the same principles of economy that characterize prudent men in the management of their private affairs. The reason as well as the necessity for the practice of economy is the same in one case as in the other. Extravagance, whether public or private, is a demoralizing influence which impoverishes states and bankrupts individuals. No officer, whatever may be his position, has a right to be generous at the public expense. Any disbursement or appropriation of the revenues, the necessity for which is not shown to be essential for the public good, is a flagrant injustice. Retrenchment is the mandate of the people, and the chief plank in the platform upon which you were elected. The day is come, and the hour is at hand, when your promise to reduce public expenses, wherever it can be effected without detriment to the public good, must be fulfilled. Your word is pledged for it, and good faith requires that it should be kept.

ABUSES SHOULD BE CORRECTED.

Abuses, if any have grown up, must be unmasked and extirpated, root and branch. No department of state, nor any of its institutions, is too sacred for you to invade with the view of ascertaining its condition, its needs, its practices, whether good or bad. How are you to know where to cut off unnecessary expense, or to withhold a needless appropriation, or to reduce to a minimum a needed one, or to destroy a hidden emolument, or to abolish a useless office, or whether abuses exist, without making yourselves acquainted with the true condition of the state and its institutions? It is true that much of the knowledge of public affairs with which you will be charged or presumed to be aware must come through committees to whom is confided the business of investigating and reporting, often with such recommendations as they deem proper, upon the condition and needs of the various institutions of the state. This involves the assumption that the members of the committee will be selected with reference to their fitness and ability to perform the work to which they are assigned, and that such work, whatever it may be, will be thoroughly and not perfunctorily performed. I trust that this assumption may hold good, in fact, for I sincerely hope that no perfunctory report will come from any committee of this legislature. There will, also, be submitted for your information the reports of the different officers having charge of the public departments and institutions of the state. I bespeak for them a fair and candid hearing, believing that these officers are animated by the best motives for the public good. I earnestly hope that you will carefully examine their reports with a view of giving deliberate consideration to the suggestions contained therein, keeping in mind, at the same time, the interests and the needs of the people.

I make these suggestions, gentlemen, to impress you with the necessity of using all the means of information in your possession to qualify yourselves for the intelligent performance of your duty, and to enable you to provide such legislation as will secure needed reforms, reduce the public expenditures, and put at a minimum all needed appropriations of the public revenue. It is in your power to accomplish these objects. The duty and responsibility of legislation rests immediately upon you. To you is committed the sole authority of making laws for the protection of the life, liberty, and property of the citizen, for the levy and collection of taxes and directing the expenditures of the public revenue for the general welfare, the education of our youth, and the care of the unfortunate, and for the support of our institutions of learning, of charity, and of reform and punishment. To a great extent, the honor and welfare of the state and the prosperity and happiness of the people depend upon your action. You cannot escape accountability for the manner in which you discharge your high trust. You are here by the will of the people and owe them a conscientious performance of duty according to your best ability. They will scrutinize and review and pass upon your official acts. Do not disappoint their expectations of relief from unnecessary taxation. Make a resolute effort to reduce the burden of taxation to the lowest possible limit consistent with a wise and economical administration of the public business.

ASSESSMENT AND TAXATION.

Assuming, then, that your efforts will be directed to the accomplishment of this end, it is equally important and necessary, after the amount of money to be raised by taxation for the support of the state, economically administered, is ascertained, that our law regulating the levy and collection of taxes should distribute its burdens ratably so as to insure uniformity of contribution. There is wide complaint against the inequality and insufficiency of our tax laws. If these defects exist, they should be speedily remedied, for equality is the essence of the right to take the citizen's property for the support of government. Our constitution makes it the duty of the legislature to "provide by law for uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation." To secure uniformity and equality it is absolutely essential that taxation be based on some rule of apportionment that operates impartially and rests on fixed principles of justice. No doubt it is impossible to obtain absolute equality, but it is indispensable that some rule be adopted that approximates to that end. Without it, tax laws are partial and inequitable, producing inequality and flagrant injustice. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance, so far as human laws can devise, to equalize the burdens of taxation. This is the leading principle that should be kept steadily in view when tax laws are the subject of legislative consideration. One of the causes of inequality is the insufficiency of the law to secure the assessment for taxation of all classes of property. Where one class of property is taxed and another to any large extent allowed to escape, the burdens of government are not equally shared. The fundamental idea is that all property, movable and immovable, visible and invisible, should be assessed, to the end that they may bear their fair and just proportions of the tax necessary to be raised for the support of the government. Our constitution contemplates that both classes of property, real and personal, shall be assessed equally and according to their just valuation. It is thought that real estate—the lands and homes of our people—contributes more than its just proportion of the taxes. The reason assigned is that some classes of personal property escape taxation through the insufficiency of our tax laws. It is believed that if our laws were competent to exact a truthful assessment of the value of personal property it would largely increase the amount of our taxable property, and render less burdensome the ownership of houses and lands. A law which so operates is partial and inequitable. The farms and homes of our people should not bear more than their just proportion of public burdens.

We must all deplore a condition of things which permits a citizen paying a tax upon his home or farm to point to some neighbor, owning vastly more in personal goods and capital, who pays a much less amount of tax. It is idle to urge the difficulty of assessing some classes of property without making your law inquisitive. In the nature of all things, all laws for the raising of revenue are more or less inquisitorial, but not necessarily to the extent of violating the principle of good neighborhood. Nor will laws devised to exact a truthful statement of a citizen's taxable property be so considered by those who recognize the duty they owe the government for its protection to their persons and property to bear their fair and just proportion of the public burdens; and as to those who, refusing to recognize such duty, shirk their portion of such burdens, and create the necessity for such laws, they constitute a class who have no claims upon your sympathy or consideration. The aim of the law should be to tax all property liable to taxation, of whatever nature and description, and in taxing it to observe the principle of uniformity of rate and uniformity in the valuation of the different classes of property. You should also carefully consider the laws relating to the taxation of all corporations doing business in this state, and ascertain whether they are bearing their fair and equal proportion of the public charges. The state affords them the benefit and protection of its laws, and the reciprocal duty should be devolved upon them of contributing their share to its support. Upon the same principle, residents of other states loaning money in this state should be required to pay taxes on the amount employed. It is not possible for me at this time to enter into consideration in detail of the wants of the people in this regard. I can only suggest some of the general principles which should control you in the consideration of the subject of taxation. The demand for a revision of our tax laws is urgent and widespread. You are here by the will of the people who have confided to you the sovereign power to tax—to take the citizen's property for governmental purposes. It is important that you should wisely exercise this power, aiming to avoid all inequalities, and to place the burden of taxation so that it will bear, as nearly as possible, equally upon all.

THE PENITENTIARY.

Our penitentiary has been a serious charge upon the state. The law inflicts punishment upon the criminal to protect society and effect his reformation, and to deter others from the commission of crime. The punishment consists in confining him in the state penitentiary for a period of time proportionate to the enormity of his offense. When he has served his punishment, the public good requires that he shall return to society a better or reformed man. But the reformation of the criminal cannot be effected by his confinement alone. There must be, in addition, the influence of moral forces upon his character and regular employment upon his habits, to work his reformation. As a means to this end, systematic employment is regarded as one of the most humane as well as valued means of reform used in penal institutions. It is essential to the health of the convict, and is due to the state as recompense for his support. Any system of regular employment, therefore, which the state chooses to initiate that would tend to lighten the burden of his support, and make the prison in a measure self-sustaining, is a decided gain for the people, and likely to improve the health and benefit the habits of the convict. But experience has shown that it is extremely difficult to select an industry which will afford regular employment without bringing convict labor in competition with free labor. We know, as a matter of fact, that wherever the employment of convict labor has been brought in competition with free labor it has produced much dissatisfaction. It was in a measure the desire to avoid this result that induced the last legislature to make an appropriation for the erection and operation of a jute mill with convict labor. It was claimed that by this means the state could work its convict labor with profit in manufacturing articles at low price, and largely in use by our farming class, and at the same time avoid competition with free labor.

In the neighboring states of California and Washington jute mills have been erected and operated for the past few years, but whether profitably or not I am not informed. But, since the appropriation has not been used for a jute mill, as the law contemplated, for reasons which will doubtless appear satisfactory to you, it is highly important, in view of the fact that jute goods are now on the free list by recent tariff legislation, to ascertain and determine whether the state will realize any profit or advantage by building and operating a jute mill with convict labor. It certainly is true that the state does not want to engage in any doubtful experiments; and, unless you think after careful consideration, that the conditions are favorable to the operating of a jute mill industry with convict labor, the proposed enterprise had better be abandoned and the money appropriated for this object be devoted to some other needful public purpose. It is never wise for a state to buy an enterprise which prudent men are anxious to get rid of. There is an impression among some of our people that the purchase of the foundry plant and its operation with convict labor has not been productive of profit or advantage to the state. The idea briefly is that "an elephant" was unloaded upon the state. I trust there is no foundation for such impression, but that facts will disclose that the foundry has been successfully and profitably operated, furnishing regular employment for the convicts, and making the penitentiary in a great measure a self-sustaining institution. It is your duty to ascertain what is the true state of the case in respect to these matters, so that you will be able to make such provision for, or disposition of these industries, proposed and contemplated, as may be of the highest advantage to the state and the best interests to the people. In this connection, I would suggest that you consider whether such a change in the present statutes is desirable as would enable the state to transport her own convicts from the jails to the penitentiary through her own agency connected with the penitentiary management. Under existing laws, the sheriffs deliver the convicts to the penitentiary authorities, and the cost for each convict brought to the prison is thought to be largely in excess of what it would cost for the warden to send a guard for such convicts. This method of conveying convicts to the penitentiary, and others based on similar suggestions, have been adopted in several states and resulted in benefit and advantage to the taxpayer.

ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE.

The duty of providing for the insane is a work of charity and benevolence which I commend to your generous consideration. The charity which takes care of this unfortunate class is a noble work and finds its source in the best impulses of our nature. It is a work which demands the highest intelligence and keenest sympathy to manage with efficiency and humanity. Whatever is necessary for their relief and comfort ought to be done promptly. The dictates of humanity and the honor of the state alike demand that none of these unfortunate ones should be uncared for. We have one institution at the capital, and another soon to be erected in eastern Oregon, devoted to this noble work, which bespeak the generosity of our people and indicate that no sordid influences can effect them when places for the comfortable care of these unfortunates are needed. A generosity which taxes itself to accomplish such objects ought not to be abused. It is believed, owing to the laxity of our laws, that many persons are sent to the asylum, and many remain there as its inmates who are not proper subjects for its charity, and that if the defects of our laws in these particulars were remedied, it would diminish the number of insane, so accounted, fully one fifth, and greatly reduce the expenses of the institutions. Evils of this character are abuses of charity and ought to be promptly remedied. In this connection, I would also suggest that I think it would be to the interest of the state that the asylum, through her own agency, should be intrusted, wherever it can be done, with the transportation of insane persons. Besides the difference in expense, there is the further reason that a guard sent by the asylum would be much more expert in handling this unfortunate class, and therefore would often know how to spare them unnecessary physical pain and mental distress. I earnestly recommend these matters to your consideration.

MILITIA.

The protection of society demands that sufficient provision should be made for the suppression of mobs, riots, and other disorders which are beyond the power of the civil authorities to control. Experience has demonstrated that when such uprisings or internal disorders occur, endangering the life and property of citizens, the prompt use of organized military force is the most effective way to suppress them and restore order. In fact, there is no better way to secure obedience and respect for the laws than always to possess the power to enforce them. For these reasons, it is important to have sufficient military organization, well armed and equipped, and under proper discipline, to assist the civil authorities in the enforcement of the laws in case any crisis or emergency should arise which is beyond their power to control. But the military organization should not be so extensive as to require large expenditure of the public money. There is no actual necessity for a large organization. Our people are law-abiding and respect the individual rights of others. They are not of the sort who are prone to riotous conduct or disposed to do violence to the person and property of others. I do not think, therefore, that any large military organization ought to be kept up, or so large as is now maintained; it would be sufficient to have a military organization of several companies, which, properly distributed over the state, would answer every exigency. It gives me pleasure to say that, so far as my observation has extended, our companies are composed of brave and patriotic young men who are engaged in peaceful pursuits in civil life, and who are loyal to our state and its laws, our country and its flag.

EDUCATION.

The general diffusion of knowledge furnishes the best guarantee for the strength and stability of the state. Popular education is closely allied to popular liberty. No state can afford to neglect the educational interests of its children. It should give them all an opportunity, at the public expense, to enjoy such educational facilities and advantages as will enable them to become fairly intelligent citizens. But it is evident that those who are to teach children should possess the special training that qualifies them for the work. To obtain expert teachers, it is necessary to have schools for their education. With this end in view, our normal schools were established. I take it that they are fulfilling the purpose for which they are designed, and are in good condition and constantly increasing in efficiency. So, too, it is my opinion that the state university and the agricultural college are performing efficiently and acceptably their share in the educational system of the state. Under the able management of their presidents, aided by their corps of accomplished professors, these institutions, in the line of their educational work, ought to become valuable aids in the development of the state, and the advancement of knowledge and intelligence. The schools for the blind and the deaf and dumb are performing an important work, and are deserving of your fostering care. But, in respect to these educational institutions of whatever description, I feel bound to say that, in view of the large amount of money which the state has invested in their grounds and buildings, and the large amount which is required for their support, it is due the taxpayer that they be managed with strict economy, and their expenses be reduced to the lowest possible limit, not incompatible with their efficiency and usefulness. Upon this basis, I recommend whatever appropriations may be found necessary for their support. This recommendation, of course, includes the idea that every institution should show satisfactorily to you what are its needs for efficient work, and excludes the idea that any institution should have a fixed sum provided by law, as in that case there is always a tendency to consume the appropriation, whether the whole is needed or not, rather than allow any part of it to return to the treasury by operation of law. Every law of this character, if there be any such, ought to be promptly repealed, leaving the appropriation for all institutions to be based on an estimate satisfactorily shown to be needful for its wants and efficiency. As to the reform school, I have little data upon which to found an opinion. The buildings and out-buildings are new, and sufficient for present purposes. No additional cost of this kind need be incurred. It would seem that this institution, with the labor force at its disposal among its inmates, and the large acreage attached to it, under careful and economical management ought to be made nearly self-sustaining. Certainly the sum needed for its support for the ensuing two years ought not to be large.

PUBLIC ROADS.

There is no subject of equal importance upon which the public mind is more unanimous than the advantage to be derived from good roads. The subject of economical road making has been much studied, largely discussed by the press and in road conventions. Every one understands that the state cannot be built up and its lands made valuable without good roads are constructed. But how to do it without involving too great an expense is the difficult problem. Various systems have been devised with varying degrees of merit, but they all include a measure of expense that makes it difficult for the younger states, like our own, to construct them in a satisfactory manner without entailing too heavy taxation upon property holders. This consideration, though, ought not to discourage us from ascertaining the condition of our roads and the best methods of constructing and improving them. Our state is in great need of good roads. Where the cost of them is reasonable, there can be no better investment. Good roads facilitate intercourse and develop trade, promote health, and add greatly to the enjoyment of life, enhance the value of farms, and make markets accessible for the sale of their products, spare beasts of burden and save the wear and tear of wagon and harness. It is greatly to be desired that some economical plan may be devised to secure good roads, so that our communities may be enabled to enjoy their advantages. There is no doubt that our road laws have failed to accomplish, in a satisfactory manner, the object of their enactment. The system created by them is defective and needs thorough revision. I own I have no plan for correcting their defects, but I suggest to you, who are intelligent men of experience in practical affairs, to take the matter into consideration and endeavor to evolve some system which shall remedy their defects and secure better roads for the traveling public. As the question of good roads is a matter now much discussed, you can acquire much useful information in regard to them through pamphlets which have been published and circulated with the view of suggesting the best method of improving and building good roads.

IRRIGATION.

There will be submitted for your consideration a bill, designed to enable our state to take advantage of a law known as the Carey law, which gives to those states having large tracts of arid lands, a million of such acres on the condition of reclaiming them by irrigation. Our state is included among those entitled to avail themselves of its provisions. This is a highly important subject to eastern Oregon, where there are large quantities of arid lands, and where there are mountain ravines in which water may be stored by dams for irrigating and making them productive and valuable. In this way, large tracts of arid lands may be reclaimed for the uses of civilization and become the happy abodes of industry and contentment. I commend the subject to your careful and intelligent consideration.

SALMON FISHERIES.

Our salmon fisheries, being one of our leading industries, are the source of great revenue and give employment to many men. Salmon fish, when prepared for market, constitute one of the principal exports of the state, and are an important part of its commerce. The necessity of proper regulations for salmon fishing, to preserve them from destruction, and to protect our future supply, is too manifest to require discussion. Whatever further regulations in this behalf are necessary ought to be established by the legislature and enforced by the courts. We cannot too vigilantly guard our salmon interests from destruction. The lesson taught by the history of other states, where they once abounded but have now disappeared, emphasizes the necessity of such regulations for their preservation and propagation. One of the means to preserve salmon and obviate their decrease on account of the catch, is their artificial propagation, but I understand that some legislation is required on the part of the state to enable it to avail itself of the benefits to be derived under the regulations prescribed by the United States statutes for fish culture. Whatever legislation in this regard may be needed for the propagation and preservation of salmon should be enacted.

LABOR.

It is indispensable to the peace of society and the welfare of the people that the relation between those who perform manual labor and those who employ it shall be harmonious and satisfactory. But, to secure this condition of feeling between them, the relation must be founded on recognized principles of justice, mutually contributing to the advantage and protection of each other. Both employer and employé have rights that must be respected and defended from the unjust demands and encroachments of the other. Neither can disregard the conditions essential to preserve harmony and good will between them without exposing society to disturbances and disastrous conflicts, endangering life and property. It is gratifying to know that our state has been free from the turbulence and disorder which has been so common in some of the other states, and that our exemption is due to the intelligence and orderly character of our industrial classes. It is a duty we owe them to look steadily after the conditions which injuriously affect their employment and welfare.

In my judgment, one of the greatest dangers that menace honest labor is the indiscriminate immigration now inundating our country. To the poor and oppressed of other lands our country offers an asylum, but this invitation does not include the corrupt and vicious, the paupers and the criminal classes, nor those—worse still—who use its freedom to work its destruction. We cannot afford that our country shall be the dumping ground for the degraded and socialistic classes of other nations. This evil is upon us, and unless remedied sooner or later, we shall feel its contaminating influences upon our national life in disturbing the conditions that surround labor and that are essential to its independence and prosperity, and in endangering the health and safety of the people and the welfare of the republic. The people ought to make themselves heard upon this subject in tones so distinct as to cause their representatives to heed their demand for legislation which shall exclude from our shores this vicious and dangerous class of immigration.

SUPREME COURT.

A delay of justice often operates as a denial of justice. The bill of rights in our constitution declares that "justice shall be administered openly and without purchase, completely and without delay." The business of the supreme court is increasing so rapidly that it will soon become impossible for the judges to keep pace with it, and properly perform their duties. With the aid of their efficient stenographer they have kept the work from accumulating as rapidly as it otherwise would, and are now only behind in the hearing of cases some two or three months. But in the nature of things it cannot be long before their docket will be crowded with cases, causing much delay, vexation, and expense, before their final adjudication. In anticipation of this condition of things, an amendment was passed by the last legislature, which will be submitted to you, proposing an increase of two in the number of supreme judges. Upon this proposed amendment I shall leave you to act as your best judgment dictates. What I wish to suggest is that, in my opinion, appeals in civil case might be considerably limited, and the business of the court largely decreased, by granting them only where the judgment rendered exceeds two hundred and fifty dollars, unless such judgment involves matters affecting lands, public revenue, or the construction of the constitution of the state and the United States. Upon examination, I think it will be found that a large number of cases involve sums of less than two hundred and fifty dollars, and, in many instances, the object in appealing these cases is to obtain delay, or to gratify a bad feeling between the parties litigant. I am aware of the objection usually urged against such a law, namely, that every citizen should have the right of appeal, no matter how small the sum, otherwise its effect would be to discriminate against citizens of small means. On the other hand, many good citizens suffer injustice and wrong rather than submit to the long, expensive, and vexatious delays which usually attend a resort to the appellate court for redress.

Possibly some other remedy may be devised to correct this evil, but the necessity that relief should be afforded the court, and a prompt hearing and adjudication of causes be obtained, is imperative. The judges now are the hardest working officials in any department of state. Their duties comprise grave responsibilities and interests of the highest conceivable character. Life, liberty, reputation, and property are intrusted to their judgment, and rest upon their decision. They are, as your judges should be, men of ability and learning, wise in judgment, upright in character, firm and courageous in spirit, who will render their judgments uninfluenced by the voice of popular clamor and unintimidated by threats of political vengeance. Having such judges, it is your duty to afford them relief, and make sure reasonable compensation for their services. Their salary ought not to be reduced. Salaries should be commensurate with the duties, dignities, and responsibilities of the office to which they are attached. None should be so high that fortunes can be made from them, or so low that, with frugality, they are without pecuniary benefit. There are some officials, such as those composing the railroad commission, whose salaries could be reduced one third, and still be reasonable compensation for efficient services. The railroad commission, where it fulfills the purpose of its creation, is a useful body and a benefit to the people, though I think one commissioner and his clerk are all that are needed.

OFFICES SHOULD BE FILLED BY THE PEOPLE OR THEIR EXECUTIVE.

The mode of selecting railway commissioners, as some other officers, by the legislature, is wrong and of doubtful validity, although sanctioned by custom and sustained by some judicial precedents. The power to appoint to an office ought to be lodged in the people or their executive. Such a power is not legislative, nor should it be exercised by the legislature except in the appointment of officers for its own body. Every statute which vests such power in the legislature ought to be amended in this regard, and lodged in the people or their executive. Such a change is needed in our statutes to save your valuable time for legislative service, to do away with trades and combinations to advance political fortunes, and to put an end to the disgraceful scenes that sometimes characterize the scramble for legislative appointments to office.

PUBLIC PRINTING.

The public printing is swelled much beyond the needs of the public service, and ought to be largely diminished. Some of it is in form of tables more open than similar printing for private citizens, and part of it is not only of no public interest, but is of no public concern, consisting in some instances of mere printed blank forms that are of no more use than so many blank pages, except to count as an extravagant public expenditure. This is serious injustice to those who foot the bills. The law authorizing public printing is too lax. You ought to investigate it thoroughly for the purpose of ascertaining the nature and extent of its defects with a view of remedying it.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

The national reform league is engaged in a movement to secure uniformity in the law governing marriage and divorce. This is an important subject, vitally affecting the interests of domestic life and the welfare of the people, and is worthy of your attentive consideration. I would suggest that you appoint a committee without pay to examine into the merits of the subject and report the result of its deliberations to the next legislature.

REDEMPTION FROM FORCED SALES.

Your attention is also directed to the necessity of extending the time for the redemption of realty sold at judicial sales. Owing to the financial depression and the depreciation in value of land and its products, forced sales at this time are relatively confiscatory.

BANK INSPECTION.

There is also some demand for legislation in respect to the inspection of banks, with a view of guarding the interests of those depositing money and doing business with them. It is claimed that some of the heavy losses, public and private, which occurred lately, owing to the suspension or failure of some of our banks, would have been averted if such a law had been in force and operation. As practical business men, acquainted with the wants of the communities which you represent, I submit the desirability of this demand to your intelligent consideration.

APPROPRIATION BILLS.

Bills for the appropriation of the public moneys ought to be submitted to you early in the session, so as to afford opportunity for the members to carefully examine and pass upon them, and not be left to the hurried consideration that marks the closing scenes. The custom of including in one bill appropriations of the public moneys for every conceivable purpose, general and special, is thoroughly vicious, and ought not to be countenanced. There are certain fixed charges and liabilities for the support of the state government for which specific appropriations might be embodied in one bill, but in all other cases the bill ought not to include appropriations for more than one object. In other words, no bill appropriating public revenue, except as stated, should contain an appropriation for more than one object. By adopting this method, every appropriation must stand or fall upon its own merits; there will be afforded the executive an opportunity to interpose any objection that he may have to the appropriation without delaying the passage of appropriations that are unobjectionable or meritorious, and thus put in practice that wise principle incorporated in the constitutions of some states, which allows the executive to veto single items or appropriations in a general appropriation bill. The rule that every measure should stand on its own merits is too apparent for discussion, but in no case is the reason for its application more manifest than in the consideration of bills appropriating the public revenue to be raised by taxation. Under the practice which has prevailed in this state of including in one bill appropriations for every conceivable public purpose and delaying its introduction until the end of the session, when there is no time for the members to examine it carefully, or the executive to exercise his power of veto without defeating appropriations contained therein needed for the public service, lavish and unnecessary appropriations have been secured, and the interests of the people disregarded. Experience has demonstrated in this state the embarrassment that is occasioned by the adjournment of the legislature without making needed appropriations for the support of the state, but these are ills which we had better bear, or the expense of reconvening the legislature, than that the executive should feel compelled to approve a general appropriation bill that bears the mark of having been railroaded through the legislature during its expiring hours to avoid examination and discussion, so as to secure some needless, extravagant, and objectionable appropriation of the public moneys.

CONCLUSION.

In entering upon the performance of the duties to which we have been called, as the trusted agents of the people, we must not be unmindful of their wants and interests: We owe them a conscientious performance of duty and we must fulfill our obligation. That obligation requires us to lighten the burden of taxation wherever it can be effected without detriment to the public service. As a means to this end, the people demand that we exercise the same care and economy to avoid extravagance and needless public expenditures in the conduct of the public business as govern prudent men in the management of their private affairs. The conditions that surround them emphasize the necessity for the practice of public and private economy, for the reform of any wasteful habits or practices, and for diminishing the public expenditures and reducing taxation. To effect these reforms, lavish and unnecessary appropriations of the public money must not be countenanced or tolerated; for these always put an unjust burden on the backs of the people, tend to check industrial activity and business enterprise, and serve to retard the general growth and development of the state.

Gentlemen, we cannot overestimate the responsibilities of our positions. Our oaths will not rest lightly on our consciences if we neglect our duty or abuse our trust. We are brought together by a majority larger than the people ever before accorded to their representatives. To that extent it emphasizes more strongly our duty to redeem our pledges for retrenchment and reform. Let us all, without distinction of party, join in a common purpose to faithfully serve the state and advance the interests of its people. Let us coöperate in showing to them our sense of obligation and appreciation of the generous confidence reposed in us by jealously guarding the public revenues and withholding our sanction from any appropriation of them except for the public good,—by reforming abuses which custom or bad laws have fastened on the body politic,—by practicing a rigorous economy in the management of public affairs,—by reducing state taxation to the lowest possible limit consistent with a wise and economical administration of the public business,—by abolishing useless offices and discontinuing the employment of supernumeraries in the public service,—by enacting laws designed to advance the public welfare, and repealing those which conflict with the interests of the people,—and by devoting our best energies and abilities to the advancement and prosperity of the state.

On motion of Representative Paxton the joint convention dissolved.

IN THE SENATE.

The senate was called to order at 1:45 o'clock p. m. by the president.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
January 16, 1895. }

Mr. President:

I am directed by the speaker to inform you that the house has concurred in senate concurrent resolution No. 12, in regard to resolution in respect to the death of ex-Governor Chadwick.

And the same is herewith transmitted to you for the consideration of the senate.

R. E. MOODY,
Chief clerk.

MEMORIAL TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES, PRAYING FOR THE PASSAGE OF AN ACT OF CONGRESS GRANTING A PENSION TO MRS. MARGARET C. M'KAY, WIDOW OF THE LATE DR. WM. C. M'KAY OF PENDLETON, OREGON.

Whereas, Dr. Wm. C. McKay, late of Pendleton, Oregon, was in 1851, instrumental in securing the surrender of the Indian murderers of Dr. Whitman; and, whereas, at the trial of said murderers at Oregon City the Indian chiefs present invited Dr. McKay to establish a trading-post in their country, which he did near the site of the present city of Pendleton, Oregon, said post became a rendezvous of traders and travelers and was a powerful factor in restraining the restless tribes of the northwest; and, whereas, in June, 1855, Dr. McKay was secretary in behalf of the United States at the great Walla Walla council called by General I. I. Stevens, General Joe Palmer, and others, and was instrumental in securing a cession of Indian lands; and, whereas, in the autumn of 1855 the sudden influx of whites into the Indian country brought on a war in which the Indians singled out Dr. McKay as a fitting object for their revenge, and totally destroyed his post and property; and, whereas, Dr. McKay was a prominent scout in the war of 1855 and 1856, and his services were of extraordinary value to the commanding generals, who were unacquainted with Indian methods of warfare; and, whereas, in the fall of 1856, Dr. McKay acted as guide for the expeditions of Generals Wright and Steptoe, and it was at his suggestion that the site for Fort Walla Walla was selected and a garrison established there; and, whereas, in 1866, the Snakes began to commit depredations, massacring settlers and cutting off supply-trains, and by act of the Oregon legislature Dr. McKay was asked to organize a company of Warm Spring Indian scouts to take the field against the hostile Snakes, which he did, and the doctor and his company were sworn into the United States service in October, 1866, entering the field in midwinter. In one year's time the Snakes and Piutes sued for peace, openly attributing their defeat to McKay and his scouts. The amount of life and property saved to the whites by the doctor's heroism in this hazardous campaign is beyond estimate; and, whereas, the doctor did, during his lifetime, try to secure compensation for his losses, but unsuccessfully; and, whereas, though of mixed blood, he was always a friend and helper to the whites; and, whereas, Margaret C. McKay, the widow of said William C. McKay, is a cripple, in old age and straightened circumstances; wherefore, in view of these many and valuable services to early Oregon;

Be it resolved by the Senate of the State of Oregon, the House of Representatives concurring, That our representatives and senators in congress be and they are hereby requested to exert their influence to secure the passage by congress of an act granting a suitable and adequate pension to said Margaret C. McKay, widow of said Wm. C. McKay.

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in congress are requested to use all honorable means to secure an adoption of an amendment to the constitution of the United States authorizing the election of United States senators by the direct vote of the people.

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 3.

Whereas during the years of 1847 and 1848 the pioneer settlers of the territory now embraced in the states of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, and then under a provisional government, organized by the settlers, were called upon to face a general Indian war, and to prevent the annihilation of the whites,—residents within that territory. This war, known as the Cayuse war, was fought to a successful termination by said settlers, and with arms, ammunition, horses, equipment, and provisions, furnished by themselves through a winter campaign in which they suffered untold hardships through lack of proper equipment and food. These men were not regularly mustered. The lack of that formality was due to the fact that no qualified officers of the United States were existent in the territory to administer the proper forms, and, furthermore, the emergency of the situation called for immediate action. Proper official and authentic muster rolls and returns are existent upon the files of the secretary of the state of Oregon; and whereas during the years of 1855 and 1856 the settlers were again called upon to protect the settlements upon both the Yakima and Rogue Rivers from the savages; and whereas these services, expenses, and hardships, so incurred by these pioneer settlers, as above stated, resulted in the prevention of the horrible massacres, if not annihilation, that otherwise would have resulted but for the prompt and efficient action on the part of these brave men; therefore, the senate and house of representatives of the state of Oregon, in legislature assembled, respectfully memorialize the honorable senate and house of representatives of the United States, and request them to enact a law, or to insert and include in any act which is now or which may be hereafter before that honorable body granting a pension to any person or persons for services during any of the wars of the United States, the names of those men who were engaged in the Indian wars of 1847 and 1848, known as the Cayuse war, and of 1855 and 1856, known as the Yakima and Rogue River war, as shown by records, muster rolls, and returns on file in the office of the secretary of state of Oregon, whereby pensions shall be granted to those who fought in said Indian wars equal in amount to those pensions granted to Mexican war soldiers. And we further request our senators and representatives in the congress of the United States to use any and all honorable means to secure a pension to the men herein mentioned. The secretary of state is hereby ordered to send three certified copies of this memorial to each of the senators and representatives of this state in the congress of the United States, and to the chief clerks of the United States senate and United States house of representatives.

On motion of Senator Cogswell, senate joint memorial No. 3 was ordered printed.

Absent—Senators Alley, Cogswell, and Dawson—3.

So the rules were suspended and house bill No. 41 was read second time by title now.

Senator Bancroft moved that the rules be further suspended and that house bill No. 41 be read third time now and placed upon its final passage.

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
January 24, 1895. }

Mr. President:

Your committee on federal relations, to whom was referred senate joint memorial No. 2, beg leave to report that we have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report it back to the senate with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendments:

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 2.

To the Honorable Congress of the United States: Petition for a pension for Margaret C. McKay, widow of the late Dr. William C. McKay, of Pendleton, Oregon,—Your petitioners would respectfully ask that an act be passed granting a pension to Margaret C. McKay, widow of the late Dr. William C. McKay, of Pendleton, Oregon, and, as reasons therefor, set forth the heroic services of said Dr. William C. McKay, his sacrifices and loss of property on account of his great friendship for the United States, and especially his magnificent services in inducing the Indians to surrender the murderers of Dr. Whitman in 1851, and again as a scout in the Yakima war (1855–57), and finally as a commander of a detachment of scouts in the Snake war of 1866–67, coupled with the old age and poverty and crippled condition of his widow, the said Margaret C. McKay, the companion and helpmeet of his years of service. Dr. McKay was a child of the Pacific northwest, born in Astoria in 1824; he was the grandson of Alexander McKay, partner of John Jacob Astor, the founder of Astoria. His mother was a Chinook princess, neice of the old chief Comcomly, celebrated in Irving's Astoria. Thus descended from the Indian on the one side, and the American trapper on the other, he was endowed by nature with all those instincts which made him an invaluable aid in dealing with the Indians of the northwest. His education in an American college at Fairfield, Herkimer county, New York, under the advice and direction of the famous missionary teacher, Dr. Whitman, made him thoroughly American, and led him ever to use his great influence with the Indians in the interests of the American settlers, and to prevent bloodshed and the horrors of Indian war. Dr. McKay was at Oregon City at the time of the trial of the murderers of Dr. Whitman, and some of the chiefs who were present invited him to establish a trading post among them, which he did, near the site of the present city of Pendleton, Oregon. Dr. McKay's post became the rendezvous of traders and travelers throughout all that region, and was a powerful influence in restraining the growing restlessness of the tribes. In 1855 the Yakima war broke out and all his possessions were destroyed by the Indians. The origin of this war was a growing feeling of distrust caused by the continued incoming of settlers, and the fear by the Indians that the whites would deprive them of all their lands. A great council had been called and a treaty made by Gen. I. I. Stevens, Gen. Joe Palmer, and others, and the tribes ceded a portion of their lands to the whites. The sudden influx of settlers before the government made the promised payments, brought on a war. Dr. McKay had been an influential factor in procuring this treaty, acting as secretary of the council for Oregon, and on account of this he was singled out by the Indians as a fitting object for their revenge, and his property was totally destroyed by them, involving him in financial ruin from which he never recovered. Dr. McKay took a prominent part in this war as a scout, and his services were of extraordinary value to the commanding generals, who were totally unacquainted with Indian methods of warfare. (See exhibit "A" hereto attached.) In the fall of 1856 Dr. McKay acted as guide for the expeditions of Generals Wright and Steptoe, and it was at his suggestion that the site for Fort Walla Walla was selected and a garrison established there. Again, in 1866, the Snakes began to commit depredations by cutting off supply trains and massacreing outlying settlers and miners, and inspiring terror throughout all eastern Oregon. The United States soldiers seemed unable to subdue them, and a petition was sent to the Oregon legislature by the settlers asking, in the name of God, that volunteers be organized as a means of protection against the devastation of the Snakes. A bill was introduced to enlist volunteers to go against the Snakes; it was amended that a company of Warm Spring Indians be organized, and that Dr. Wm. C. McKay be placed at their head. This was passed with great enthusiasm. General Steele, commander of the department of the Columbia, proposed that under a recent act of congress the scouts be equipped with the necessary arms and accoutrements, and be regularly mustered into the United States service. (See proposal of General Steele to Dr. McKay to enlist a company of Warm Spring Indians hereto attached, marked exhibit "B.") This proposal was accepted. Dr. McKay was sworn into the United States service October 26, 1866, by W. Borrowe, second lieutenant U. S. A., with the pay of a second lieutenant. (See exhibit "C," hereto attached.) As is usual in such cases there was much delay, and the Indians were kept waiting at The Dalles for three or four months, impatient for action, but not yet supplied with the things necessary for the campaign. At last, in the dead of winter the company was inspected by General Steele, and McKay was asked when it was advisable to begin the campaign. "Now," was his emphatic answer, and he forthwith took the field with his command, being assisted in the leadership by Captain John Darrah. It is needless to say that being acquainted with the modus operandi of the enemy, they soon returned with thirty-five scalps, more than the regular army of the United States had captured in five years. In the month of June they again took the field under the command of General Crook. In one year after McKay's scouts took the field the Piutes and Snakes sued for peace. One of their chiefs, in a grave and impressive address, said that once his people were as numerous as the leaves on the trees; now they were few in number, and were compelled to make peace with the white man. But, he told General Crook, that it was not he whom he feared, nor his blue-coated soldiers, at whom the Indians laughed. "It is there," and he pointed to Dr. McKay at the head of his Indian scouts, "the salmon-catchers (as the Warm Spring Indians were called by other tribes), they are the men who have taken the scalps of my people and compelled us to bury the hatchet ere it was red with the blood of our enemies." In Oregon this is a well known fact. The Warm Spring Indians knew better than the white man the foe with whom they had to deal. When the Modoc war broke out General Canby invited the doctor to take command of the same company of scouts. McKay thought the outbreak too trifling, and recommended his younger brother Donald for the expedition. Yet it cost the United States nearly three million dollars to subdue less than one hundred Indians. Every newspaper reader remembers Donald McKay, the hero of the Modoc war. The Pacific states owe a debt to the whole McKay family. Fifty years ago when the very fate of the settlers on this coast hung in the balance, old Tom McKay, the father of Donald and the doctor, raised a company of half-breeds and took the field for the unprotected whites. This fact is recorded in all our histories. It is impossible to estimate the amount of life and property saved through their influence. Hundreds of pioneers live to testify, hundreds more have passed away. Hereto are attached copies of letters and orders written to Dr. McKay during his period of service. Wherefore, your petitioners ask that a pension be granted the said Margaret C. McKay, and for this they will ever pray.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
January 25, 1895. }

Mr. President:

I am directed by the speaker to inform you that the house has adopted house joint memorial No. 6, memorializing congress to reimburse veterans of the Yakima and Rogue-river wars.

And the same is herewith transmitted to you for the consideration of the senate.

R. E. MOODY,
Chief clerk.

HOUSE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 6.

By the House of Representatives of the Legislative Assembly of Oregon, the Senate concurring—To the Congress of the United States: We, your memorialists, respectfully represent,—That during the years 1855 and 1856 war was made upon the white settlers of the territories of Oregon and Washington, which, though known locally as the Yakima and Rogue-river wars, respectively, was in fact a collusive effort on the part of the native race to exterminate the American settlers of the north Pacific coast, during which volunteers were called out to assist the regular soldiers of the United States, and men and property were furnished by the settlers of Oregon and Washington (as found by a commission appointed by act of thirty-fourth congress, chapter CXXIX, section 11,) to the aggregate amount of six million eleven thousand four hundred and fifty-nine dollars and thirty-six cents. That this sum found due by the commission, consisting of Gen. Rufus Ingalls, U. S. A., Capt. A. J. Smith, U. S. A., and L. F. Grover, since governor of Oregon and United States senator, was scaled down arbitrarily and unjustly by the third auditor of the United States treasury, the full difference between the prices of labor and property on the Pacific and Atlantic sides of the continent at that time to the scales of the latter, thus withholding the sum of three million two hundred and ninety-six thousand six hundred and forty-three dollars and eighty-one cents lawfully and justly due the people of Oregon and Washington for the services rendered and property furnished.

The following is section 4 of an act passed by the Oregon territorial legislature at its session of 1855–6, fixing the rate of pay for the volunteers called for, shows the local valuation of the services and property:

Section 4. Whenever such volunteers are called and received into the service of the territory by virtue of this act, each non-commissioned officer and private shall be entitled to receive two dollars per day and rations, and two dollars per day for the use and risk of his horse and equipments, except for horses actually killed in action, unavoidably lost or reported unfit for service and turned over to the quartermaster, in which case the owner shall receive the appraised value thereof. And all commissioned officers shall receive the same pay as officers of the same rank in the army of the United States; provided, that commissioned officers shall receive the same pay for use and risk of horses as non-commissioned officers.

The act of which the above is an extract, contained an emergency clause, and the men who responded to the call were mainly of the patriotic frontier class, to whom the wealth-winners of the nation are much indebted. They are now nearing the end of life and only ask at your hands what was found to be justly due and arbitrarily and unjustly withheld. The men thus served are many of them old and needy, and can therefore add necessity to their plea for justice. Moreover, they do not understand why, as soldiers, they are not as well entitled to pensions and land warrants for services rendered and risks incurred as any other soldier of the republic.

We would also submit that the soldiers who served in the Cayuse war of 1847 and 1848 under the provisional government of Oregon, should receive pension on the same basis as the soldiers of the Mexican war.

In the preparation of a bill in accordance with the prayer of this memorial, our delegation in congress is respectively requested to make provision for the payment of any sum of money that may be awarded by this act, direct to each individual for whom it is intended, by the issuance in each case of a treasury warrant, payable to the order of each person above named or their assigns; said warrants to be forwarded to the treasurer of the state of Oregon, to be handed to such person upon satisfactory proof that he or she is the person for whom the said warrant is intended.

Whereas the subjects of the foregoing claim are preferred by men widely scattered, and are, therefore, unable to present their claims as individuals in the court of claims; therefore,

Resolved, That our representatives in congress be forwarded each a copy of this memorial, and ask their earnest service in securing the justice herein prayed for.

Senator Brownell moved that the senate concur in house joint memorial No. 6.

The following message was received from His Excellency, Governor Wm. P. Lord:—

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 1, 1895. }

To the Senate of the Legislative Assembly:

On the twenty-eighth day of September, 1893, by proclamation of the president of the United States, the Cascade range forest reserve was established in the state of Oregon, within which there are said to be, in round numbers, four million five hundred thousand (4,500,000) acres of government land that is withdrawn from the market. Prior to the issuance of such proclamation, Oregon was entitled to two section in every township of this tract of mountain land for school purposes. With the establishment of the reservation, Oregon became entitled to lieu lands, to be selected at pleasure from any unclaimed government lands in the state. It will be seen, therefore, that the creation of this reservation has taken from the state nearly two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) acres of land, much of which is worthless, and given in lieu thereof a like amount of the best government lands to be found.

Under the law of the present administration the school fund realizes only one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) per acre, at which rate but three hundred and twelve thousand dollars, ($312,000) could possibly be realized from the sales of such lands. There is no property entrusted to the state more sacred than the school fund, and every effort should be made to increase and protect it. To this end I would suggest that it is advisable that a law should be passed providing for the selection, appraisement, and sale of lieu lands, fixing the minimum price at not less than two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) per acre.

WILLIAM P. LORD,
Governor.

The message was referred to the committee on public lands.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 5.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, Your memorialists, the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, hereby respectfully represent,— Whereas, the even sections of public lands within the limits of the congressional land grants in aid of the construction of railroads were sold by the government at two dollars and fifty cents an acre, on account of the supposed increase of their value, which would be caused by the construction of the roads in aid of which the grants were made; and, whereas, the congress of the United States has forfeited all the unearned portions of railroad land grants, has fixed the price of the forfeited odd sections at one dollar and twenty-five cents an acre, and has reduced the price of the even sections within said grants to one dollar and twenty-five cents an acre, and the consideration to purchasers of said even sections for the increase of the price paid by them has failed; and, whereas, simple justice demands that the government should refund to purchasers of the even sections within the limits of all forfeited land grants who have paid the maximum price of two dollars and fifty cents an acre, one dollar and twenty-five cents an acre of such purchase price; therefore,

Resolved, That your memorialists urge the congress of the United States to place said purchasers of even sections within the limits of forfeited railroad land grants upon an equality with other purchasers of lands within the limits of said grants, and to pass the Dolph bill, which has been favorably reported from the senate committee on public lands, and is now upon the calendar of the senate, providing for the repayment to such purchasers of even sections of one dollar and twenty-five cents an acre.

MAJORITY REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1895. }

Mr. President:

A majority of the committee appointed at the last session of the senate for the purpose of investigating the feasibility and advisability of constructing a portage railroad around the falls at the dalles from a point at or near the town of Celilo to the city of The Dalles in Wasco county, Oregon, beg leave to submit their report:

The necessity for cheaper transportation for the products of eastern Oregon to the seaboard are greater today than ever before, on account of the extreme low price of agricultural products, and there being no practical method to secure a considerable and permanent reduction of the cost of transportation, except by the improvement of the Columbia river in such a manner as to overcome the obstructions to navigation at the cascades and the dalles in a way that will secure durability and economy in the transportation of freight, necessitating a large expenditure of money, much larger, in the estimation of your committee, than the state could or would undertake in these days of financial depression. Your committee, therefore, deemed it advisable for one of its members to visit Washington City to confer with the Oregon delegation in congress, the committee on rivers and harbors, and the United States engineering department, for the purpose of ascertaining what prospect there was for the general government taking this important work in hand at an early day. Accordingly, Mr. Denny was requested to visit Washington with this object in view. Upon Mr. Denny's return, his report was so favorable for immediate action by the general government that your committee considered further action looking to the construction of a portage road by the state alone at this time unadvisable.

The work of the construction of the canal and locks at the cascades being now under contract, and the money to complete it having been appropriated by congress, it is confidently expected that the obstructions to navigation at that point will be overcome within another year, while the general government has already entered upon the work of improving the dalles of the Columbia, one hundred thousand dollars having been appropriated by congress in the last river and harbor bill with which to make the survey and to secure right of way preparatory to the commencement of the construction of a boat railway. The survey and location of the roadbed have already been made by Major Post, the government engineer in charge of such public improvements in Oregon and Washington, and his report has already been forwarded to the engineering department at Washington. A portion of your committee went over the line of survey in company with Major Post and Major McNeil, of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, and it was the unanimous opinion that a boat railway is the only feasible permanent plan for overcoming the obstructions to navigation at the dalles in the Columbia.

The first board of engineers appointed to report a plan for the improvement of the river at this point unanimously reported in favor of a boat railway to be located on the Washington or north side of the river, and estimated the cost of the same at two million eight hundred thousand dollars, and the cost of improving the rapids at one hundred and fifty thousand dollars additional. The last board changed the location to the Oregon or south side of the river, and reduced the estimate of the cost of the railway to two million one hundred and fourteen thousand dollars, which, with one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the cost of improving the rapids below, made a total estimate of the work of two million two hundred and sixty-four thousand dollars. The board were unanimous in the opinion that a boat railway was entirely practicable.

A majority, however, preferred a canal to a boat railway. Two of the more eminent engineers upon the board, Colonel Mendall and Mr. Alexander, made minority reports sustaining the opinion that a boat railway was the most practicable and economical scheme for overcoming the obstructions. Mr. Alexander strongly maintained also that a canal was impracticable on account of the character of the rocks, through which it must be constructed, and the drifting sands which can be shoveled from a railroad track, but must be dredged from a canal. The character of the permanent improvement at the dalles is now settled by the action of congress.

We are informed by the engineer in charge of the work that it is expected that the one hundred thousand dollars already appropriated will be sufficient to secure the right of way and the preparation of the working plans, and the members of our delegation in congress assure us that they will be able in the next river and harbor bill to secure a provision placing the work under contract, and after that is done the railway should be completed and put in operation within three or four years at most.

From all we can learn there has never been any probability of congress providing for the construction of a portage road, while owing to the cost of operating and handling freight, a portage road would not afford adequate relief to the producers of eastern Oregon, it would no doubt afford some relief by cheapening transportation to some extent; and the practical question presented for the consideration of the legislature is whether the state will give this relief by the construction and operation of a portage road until the boat railway is completed. The last board of engineers surveyed and estimated the cost of portage roads on two different lines on the south side of the river. One line located without regard to the location and construction of the boat railway they estimated would cost four hundred and odd thousand dollars. A road constructed on the other line, located so that the roadbed could be used in part for the boat railway, they estimated would cost six hundred and odd thousand dollars; should the state provide for the construction of a portage road, these surveys and estimates would no doubt be available.

Senator Dolph, who is a member of the senate committee on commerce, which has charge of the river and harbor bill in the senate, believes that it is practicable to secure in connection with the next appropriation for the boat railway a provision that the roadbed shall be graded and one tract constructed without delay, and when that is done the state shall be authorized to use the track as a portage road under such regulations as the secretary of war may prescribe so as not to interfere with the prosecution of the work; and we understand Major Post believes this to be practicable, and that there is no serious objection to it from an engineering or other point of view. Before the roadbed of the boat railway can be graded and a track laid, the canal and locks at the cascades will undoubtedly be completed, and the rails of the portage road could be used for approaches to the main track at the dalles, and the rolling stock transferred there for the operations of the roads, and thus the completion of the boat railway and the full relief would afford to shippers be anticipated two or three years or probably more, by the relief which would be afforded by a temporary portage road operated by the state.

O. N. DENNY,

W. W. STEIWER,
Committee.

MINORITY REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1895. }

Mr. President:

As one member of the committee appointed at the last session of the senate for the purpose of investigating the feasibility and advisability of constructing a portage railroad around the falls at the dalles from a point at or near the town of Celilo to the city of The Dalles, in Wasco county, Oregon, I am compelled by a deep sense of duty toward the people of eastern Oregon to submit a minority report. I fully concur with the majority of your committee as to the urgent necessity at this time for cheaper transportation, and I concur in the belief that the present legislature, owing to the heavy burdens of taxation already imposed upon our people would not be justified in making an appropriation of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars or of a sufficient sum to build and equip a portage railway, as heretofore contemplated. The chairman of the committee was selected by the committee to visit Washington with the view of obtaining, if possible, government assistance for the construction of a portage road, and the results of such visit are set forth in the report of the majority, who appear of the opinion that the appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars made by congress for surveys and procuring right of way looking toward the construction of a boat railway is of sufficient significance to satisfy the demands of our people for an open river. From this view I am compelled to dissent. To me this appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars in the interest of a project that is estimated to cost in the vicinity of two and one half million dollars, and consume ages of time in its construction, is only evidence of a delay which our people can ill afford to bear. Realizing that we may expect no aid from the general government, and full well understanding the burden of further taxing our own people, I now look upon the immediate building of a portage road as impracticable, but believe that a full solution is found in senate bill No. 68, introduced by Senator Smith of Sherman, and earnestly recommend its passage at this session.

Respectfully,

J. H. RALEY.

On motion of Senator Deniny, the reports were ordered printed.

The following communication was received from the Honorable the Secretary of State:—

COMMUNICATION.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 11, 1895. }

To the Honorable the President of the Senate—

SIR: I have the honor herewith to transmit for consideration of the senate, a communication from the president of the Salem Water Company with reference to supplying water for the state capitol, and a communication from the same company with reference to supplying water for the asylum.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
H. R. KINCAID,
Secretary of State.

COMMUNICATION.

SALEM, Oregon, January 30, 1895.

Hon. H. R. Kincaid, Secretary of State—

DEAR SIR: In accordance with your request of yesterday in our interview, I herewith send you our proposition: We will furnish you water for the state house for all purposes as at present used, in accordance with the old contract that Hon. G. W. McBride claims was made with my brother before his decease, at forty dollars per month. This includes all water closets, basins, fire protection, heating engine, and engine of the printing office, and everything as now furnished, including the elevator, with the understanding, however, that the present elevator shall be replaced by another one subject to the approval of the water company, such as the Otis or Crane. The present elevator we do not care to run at any price. Or we will furnish water through a meter for the same as we have been furnishing it for the past year. The water furnished the present elevator comes from an independent pipe and can be continued or discontinued as agreed upon between us. The irrigation about the state house we think should be done through a meter, as it is as economical as any way and enables your men to irrigate at any time during the day and not be confined to irrigation hours. The whole matter of the service of the state house we think can be easily adjusted between us.

The most important part of our conversation yesterday was in regard to supplying the penitentiary and asylum. The proposition for this, however, I will put in a separate letter.

Respectfully yours,

SALEM WATER COMPANY,
Per J. M. WALLACE, President.

COMMUNICATION.

SALEM, Oregon, January 30, 1895.

Hon. H. R. Kincaid, Secretary of State:

DEAR SIR: I wish to make the following proposition: We will supply the asylum and penitentiary, through meters, at the rate of ten cents per one thousand gallons. This is the lowest rate we know for any such service furnished on the coast, or, in fact, almost any where in the country.

We have a ten-inch main running in Center street to Fourteenth street, near the end of Asylum avenue. We will attach an eight-inch main to the end of this ten-inch main at Fourteenth street, and run it out to the asylum about five thousand two hundred feet. We will there connect it with the six-inch main that the state has between the asylum and penitentiary. We will also continue the six-inch main on State street to the penitentiary, and there connect with the six-inch main between there and the asylum. This will give a complete circuit. We will put in two three-inch meters at the asylum, and two at the penitentiary, charging you precisely for what water you use at the above rate,—ten cents per one thousand gallons. This work can be done in ninety days from the time the contract is made.

The contract between the ditch company and the penitentiary gives you the right to pump the water you can through a two-inch pipe from the ditch to the penitentiary. You have your well at the asylum. The amount of water we would give you through the meters would supplement only these sources of supply, and we to be paid for what we furnish.

In order that you may understand the relation between the ditch company and the state, I herewith annex a copy of a contract made some years ago, which you will find filed in your office. Hoping this will receive your careful consideration, I am,

Respectfully yours,

SALEM WATER COMPANY,
Per J. M. WALLACE, President.

Has transferred and set over, and by these presents doth assign, transfer, and set over to the state of Oregon, and to its assigns, all the right, title, and interest of the said company in and to the water power on Mill creek, where said creek passes through the land of M. L. Savage in the county of Marion, state of Oregon, together with the right which said company has under by virtue of its charter, to bring water through the land of Fredrick Yenkee in said county, adjacent to the land of said Savage, so that the said water may be used to the best advantage at such point on or near Mill creek on the land of said Savage, as the said state of Oregon, or its assigns, may select to use the same as a water power. It is expressly understood, however, that in case the said water is brought across the land of said Yenkee, it shall be confined to a race or narrow channel, so as to prevent all unnecessary waste of water and that said state or its assigns shall pay all damage which it may cause in bringing in said water. It is further expressly understood that the right hereby conveyed, does not include the right to use said water for the purposes of irrigation or in any other way, or for any other purpose than running machinery and for mechanical purposes, except that said state may use for such other purposes as it may choose such an amount of water as it can pump through a pipe not exceeding two inches in diameter. All other water which said state may use, by virtue of this conveyance, to be returned to Mill creek on the land of said Savage, without unnecessary waste. It is expressly understood that said company has reserved and hereby doth reserve the right to take from the flume or penstock which said state or its assigns may construct, for the purpose of using said water power, any amount of water it may choose to take, not exceeding what can be conveyed through a pipe six (6) inches in diameter, and for the purpose of taking such water from said flume or penstock, the said company is to have the right of way across any land which said state may purchase from said Savage, for laying a pipe and maintaining the same for conveying said water. This instrument is not to be so construed as to restrict the said state of Oregon in any right to the use of said water, which said state may have or acquire by virtue of ownership of the land along Mill creek.

Memorandum. The right of way referred to in this contract, for laying a six (6) inch pipe through the penitentiary lands, purchased of Savage, was reserved by the Woolen Mill Company for the purpose of furnishing the city of Salem with water for domestic use and their deeds to the different powers, viz.: The woolen-mill power, the Salem flouring-mill power, and the Salem water company power, give these powers the right to take their proportional interest in this water, if conveyed through the pipes to Salem. This right, however, has never been used, and, consequently, is a dead letter.

On July 11, 1890, Iva Templeton was driving over the Calipooia river in Linn county, Oregon, the bridge falling down, precipitating the wagon and occupant into the river about thirty-one feet below, breaking said Iva Templeton's leg, necessitating the amputation thereof, and otherwise injuring her. We further find that in 1887 the law allowing damages in such cases was repealed, and remained so until 1893, when it was reenacted. We also find said Iva Templeton began suit in 1891 for twenty-seven thousand and twenty-two dollars against Linn county, Oregon, and being unsuccessful carried it to the higher courts, which also decided adversely. We also find a petition signed by one thousand two hundred and fifty taxpayers of Linn county, Oregon, asking the state of Oregon to grant relief to said Iva Templeton.

Your committee are of the opinion that Iva Templeton is entitled to relief from Linn county, and that the state of Oregon is in no way bound to grant such relief, but she being debarred from lack of statutory laws, would recommend that the bill do pass with the following amendment:

MINORITY REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 11, 1895. }

Mr. President:

The undersigned would report as to senate bill No. 68 that we have grave doubts as to the constitutionality of said bill, but the same has been very thoroughly and earnestly argued by able counsel on behalf of the railroad company, while no attorney has appeared to argue the other side; that he has been so busy with other business of the senate that he has not had opportunity to investigate this matter as thoroughly as he would like to have done, but, realizing keenly the needs of the producers of eastern Oregon of some relief, and as their representatives here are earnestly in favor of the passage of this bill, he feels constrained to resolve his doubts in favor of the bill and will therefore vote for the same. If it were his bill there are certain amendments which he certainly would have adopted, namely, to provide compensation being tendered before requiring the railroad company to accept the freight; and, second, to provide that the company, individual, or corporation who builds the branch or incline to connect the track of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company with the river should be a common carrier, and required to receive any freight tendered; but the author of the bill seems very much opposed to any amendment and therefore the undersigned will support it as it now stands.

S. B. HUSTON,
A. W. GOWAN.

On motion of Senator Smith of Sherman, senate bill No. 68 was ordered to third reading tomorrow.

Senator Denny, chairman of the committee on judiciary, submitted the following report:—

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled: Whereas the source of supply of the wild fowl, such as ducks, geese, and swan, found at certain seasons of the year in the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, California, and other Pacific states, is from the great breeding grounds situated in the territory of Alaska, at the mouth of the Yukon and Copper rivers, and at or near St. Michaels, and on the mainland at or nearly opposite Kodiak island and other points; and whereas the eggs of these wild fowl are being gathered and destroyed by companies engaged in the production of albumen, neither producing to our government any revenue, from a commercial standpoint, nor leaving the eggs to hatch and replenish the game supply of the Pacific states, which is fast being depleted under these adverse conditions; and whereas the Hon. John H. Mitchell, United States senator for Oregon, has offered an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill, providing for an investigation of this matter, the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, recognizing the importance of this matter to the Pacific states, does hereby petition your HOUSE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 7.

To the Congress of the United States: Your memorialist, the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, would respectfully represent that,—Whereas, by an act of congress, approved March third, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, entitled "An act to repeal timber culture laws, and for other purposes," that the president of the United States may, from time to time, set apart and reserve, in any state or territory having public lands bearing forests, in any part of the public lands wholly or in part covered with timber or undergrowth, whether of commercial value or not, as public reservations, and the president shall, by public proclamation, declare the establishment of such reservation and the limits thereof; and whereas the president of the United States did, on the twenty-eighth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, in accordance with the powers conferred upon him by virtue of said act of congress above set forth, reserve, set apart, create and establish certain lands within the state of Oregon, to wit: The lands known as "The Cascade forestry reserve," as a public reservation, the same being exempt from sale, settlement or homestead, as stated in the proclamation of the president; therefore, we respectfully represent to the honorable senate and house of representatives in congress assembled, that—First, the sole object for the creation of said reserve was for a protection of the Cascade watershed; second, that that portion of said "Cascade forestry reserve" south of township thirty-two (32) south, Willamette meridian, in Klamath county, Oregon, is absolutely unnecessary for the protection of said watershed, as much of it consists of swamp and agricultural lands lying along the Upper Klamath lake; third, that a large portion of Klamath county, Oregon, is now included in the Klamath Indian reservation and exempt from settlement; fourth, that by including such large portions of Klamath county within these reservations, great hardship has been inflicted upon the people of said county, and deters others from settling within its borders, by reason of the limited area of agricultural lands subject to settlement, homestead, and purchase; fifth, that said Klamath county is a new country and the people living within its limits are subject to heavy burdens, by reason of the necessary taxation levied to build bridges, roads and improve the public highways and other expenses common to a new country, and this burden is still further increased by reserving large areas of taxable lands from bearing any portion of such public expenses; therefore,

Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring, That our senators and representatives are hereby requested to use all honorable means to persuade the president to throw open for sale, purchase, settlement, and homestead all that portion of said "Cascade forestry reserve" lying, being and situate south of township thirty-two (32) south, Willamette meridian, in Klamath county, Oregon, which said portion is more fully shown by maps hereto attached and made a part of this resolution.

And your memorialists will ever pray.

Section 29. All moneys collected for tolls, rentals from street railways, or otherwise for the use of said bridges and ferries, as well as other earnings derived therefrom, shall be paid to the county treasurer of Multnomah county, who shall have the care and custody of such moneys, and which shall be known as the bridge fund, and the moneys in said fund shall only be paid out under the direction and by authority of the said county court of Multnomah county. The county treasurer of Multnomah county shall, from time to time, whenever and as required by the county court of said county, give an additional bond or undertaking in such amount or amounts as said county court may require, to be approved by said court, for the safe keeping and accounting for of all moneys coming into his hands by virtue of this act.

The bonds of the city of Portland heretofore issued to the extent of five hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the purchase, construction, and acquisition of free bridges and ferries, as well as the bonds to be issued under the provisions of this act, to the extent of two hundred thousand dollars, are hereby validated, and confirmed as existing, valid and binding obligations of the city of Portland, and said city of Portland is hereby directed and required to pay as the same matures the half-yearly interest on all said bonds, as evidenced by the coupons attached thereto, but only in the event that the county court of Multnomah county fails, neglects, or does not provide for

Section 35. That inasmuch as there is great public need for free transportation between the central portions of the said city across the Willamette river, and of making said Morrison-street bridge and said Stark-street ferry, and the upper deck of said steel bridge free, and the public interest and convenience will be promoted by immediately acquiring the same for public use, either by purchase, lease, or condemnation, as hereinbefore set out, an emergency exists, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the governor.

Mr. President:

Your committee on judiciary, to whom was referred senate bill No. 80, beg leave to report that we have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report it back to the senate with the recommendation that it do not receive further consideration at this session of the legislature. In view of the financial stringency of the times, there is objection to making appropriations for the purpose of carrying out the preliminaries of what is known as the "Carey Law." Besides, if the matter is deferred for two years, we shall then have the benefit of the experience of other states who will have signified their desire to avail themselves of the Carey act. This experience will undoubtedly give us better facilities for drafting and presenting an experimental bill. This will be no detriment, in view of the fact that we have eight years from the convening of the next legislature in which to perfect a law by which we shall profit under the Carey act.

O. N. DENNY,

Senators Butler and Price announced that they were paired on the vote for United States senator, and asked to be excused.

Senators Huston, Bancroft, Patterson, Raley, Butler, and Price were excused.

On motion of Mr. Rinearson, the joint convention adjourned.

Senator Calbreath moved the adoption of senate concurrent resolution No. 18.

Senator Johnson moved to amend by striking out the word "Friday" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Saturday," and to change the words "twenty-second" to "twenty-third."

Senators Cogswell and Calbreath demanded the ayes and nays.

On this question the roll was called and the vote was:

Those voting aye were—

Senators Alley, Gesner, Gowan, Johnson, and Smith of Sherman—5.

And the same is herewith transmitted to you for the consideration of the senate.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 18.

Whereas the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, at its seventeenth biennial session, passed an act entitled an act to create a commission to provide for the display of Oregon resources at the world's Columbian exposition, to define its duties and to appropriate money therefor, and thereby did appropriate out of the state treasury the sum of sixty thousand dollars to be expended therefor; and, whereas, in pursuance of said act, and to carry out the objects thereof, the governor of the state of Oregon appointed Honorables Geo. T. Myers, W. F. Matlock, Geo. W. McBride, Phil Metschan, C. W. Ayers, J. A. Wright, J. R. Cardwell, E. B. McElroy, Mrs. Mary Payton and Mrs. E. W. Allen, and M. Wilkins and Henry Klippel as honorary members of said board of world's fair commissioners, and said commissioners duly qualified and entered upon the discharge of their duties; and, whereas, the said board of world's fair commissions have discharged their trust and completed their labors in a manner highly satisfactory in every respect to the people of the state of Oregon, and have by their energy and ability largely added to the prosperity of our state by exhibiting our resources at said world's fair; and, whereas, by strict economy, the said world's fair commissioners have saved out of said appropriation the sum of eighteen thousand two hundred and eighty dollars and sixty-nine cents, which said funds are now in the hands of Hon. Phil Metschan, state treasurer; and, whereas, the reports of the several commissioners and officers are of great value to the state of Oregon, being filled with statistical and general information relative to the resources of the state, that have been gathered and compiled with great care by said commissioners; and, whereas, we recognize and highly appreciate the indefatigable energy and superior ability of President Geo. T. Myers, which contributed so largely to our success at the world's fair; therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, That said board of world's fair commissioners be honorably discharged from further duty and responsibility in connection therewith; that the state of Oregon assume any and all legal obligations incurred by said board pertaining to said world's fair exhibit, and hold said board harmless therefrom.

Resolved, That the sum of eighteen thousand two hundred and eighty dollars and sixty-nine cents be refunded back into the treasury of the state of Oregon.

Resolved, That all articles belonging to the state and exhibited in the fishery department be turned over to the state board of agriculture; that all articles exhibited in the agricultural department be turned over to the state board of agriculture, and all articles exhibited in the horticultural department be turned over to the state board of horticulture.

Resolved, That the interests of the state of Oregon require twenty thousand copies of the report of said world's fair commissioners be printed and distributed.

Resolved, That the thanks and gratitude of the people of the state of Oregon be extended to the gentlemen composing the said board of commissioners, to Secretary C. B. Irvine and to General Superintendent Jay Guy Lewis, for the able, energetic and successful manner in which they performed their duties to the state.

Resolved, That a joint committee of five, consisting of three from the house and two of the senate, be appointed to procure a suitable testimonial to be presented to President Geo. T. Myers as a token of the appreciation and approval by the people of the state for the successful management of this great enterprise.

Resolved, That the committee on ways and means be instructed to include in the general appropriation bill, an item not to exceed the sum of two thousand dollars, to provide for the payment of such outstanding claims against said world's fair commissioners, as shall be lawfully approved and audited, including the sum of five hundred dollars, hitherto awarded by the joint committee on world's fair commissioners, to Mrs. Emma G. White for damages to property, and for the payment of the cost of said testimonial to the president of said commissioners.

On motion of Senator Raley, the senate concurred in the adoption of house joint resolution No. 13.

Unanimous consent being first obtained, Senator Cogswell introduced senate resolution No. 19.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 19.

Resolved, That the secretary of state be and he hereby is requested to procure to be bound in board, as soon as practicable, a sufficient number thereof, and furnish to each member and officer of this senate a copy of all the documents, journals, and session laws of this session of this legislative assembly.

On motion of Senator Cogswell, the resolution was adopted.

Unanimous consent being first obtained, Senator Gowan introduced senate resolution No. 20.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 20.

Resolved, That the secretary of state be instructed to furnish each member of the senate with a copy each of volumes XX, XXI, XXII, XXIII, XXIV, XXV, XXVI, and XXVII of the supreme court reports of Oregon.

Senator Gowan moved the adoption of the resolution.

Senators Vanderburg and Smith of Sherman demanded the ayes and nays.

On this question the roll was called and the vote was:

Those voting aye were—

Senators Alley, Bancroft, Cogswell, Denny, Gowan, and Maxwell—6.

Nays—Senators Beckley, Brownell, Butler, Calbreath, Carter, Dawson, Hobson, Holt, Huston, Johnson, King, McAlister, McClung, Patterson, Price, Raley, Smith of Sherman, Steiwer, Vanderburg, Woodard, and Mr. President—21.

Absent—Senators Gesner, McGinn, and Smith of Clatsop—3.

So the senate refused to adopt the resolution.

Senate bill No. 232 having been heretofore made a special order of business for this hour, the same was considered at this time.

Senate bill No. 232 was read third time.

The question being, "Shall the bill pass?" the roll was called and the vote was:

Those voting aye were—

Senators Alley, Beckley, Butler, Calbreath, Cogswell, Dawson, Denny, Gowan, Hobson, Holt, Johnson, Maxwell, McAlister, McClung, Price, and Raley—16.

Nays—Senators Bancroft, Brownell, Carter, Gesner, Huston, King, Smith of Sherman, Smith of Clatsop, Steiwer, Woodard, and Mr. President—11.

Absent—Senators McGinn, Patterson, and Vanderburg—3.

So the bill passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Unanimous consent being first obtained, Senator Raley introduced senate concurrent resolution No. 20.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 20.

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That the Secretary of State be directed to furnish to the public library at Pendleton and to the Multnomah Law Library of Portland printed copies of the messages of the governor, the reports of all the state officers, state boards, and of the public institutions and the supreme court, and the journals of the house and the senate of this state, to be kept in each of said libraries for public use, subject to the rules and regulations of the duly constituted authorities of said libraries.

On motion of Senator Raley, senate concurrent resolution No. 20 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Gowan, the courtesies of the senate were extended to Hon. J. N. Brown, and he was invited to a seat within the bar.

Senator McGinn, chairman of the committee on engrossed bills, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 20, 1895. }

Mr. President:

Your committee on engrossed bills, to whom was referred senate bill No. 126, beg leave to report the same back to the senate as correctly engrossed.

H. E. MCGINN,
Chairman.

Senator Alley, chairman of the special committee under senate concurrent resolution No. 3, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 20, 1895. }

Mr. President:

The joint committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 3, to inquire into the building and management of the Oregon Soldiers' Home, beg leave to submit the following report:

We found the home quite pleasantly situated near the Umpqua river, and about one mile from the thriving city of Roseburg. In selecting a site for the home, your committee cannot find that any effort was made by the board of trustees to invite competition from other cities for donations of land or for sites for the home. It seems that only two were received and these were not considered. A tract of forty acres of land was purchased for a site at this place at a cost of seventy-five dollars per acre. The land is low and level, and covered by a dense growth of small timber. About ten acres of this land has been cleared, but your committee could obtain no direct and reliable information regarding the cost of clearing this land. The work seems to have been done by a large number of individuals employed by the day or hour and in connection with other labor, and no separate account of the cost of this work could be obtained. As regards the plan of the building your committee will not question, nor does it doubt the good intention of the board of trustees, but with the money expended, a building far more commodious and better adapted to the purpose intended might have been constructed. Nearly the whole of the first floor is occupied by the office, reading-room, and apartments for the employés, while the inmates, many of them feeble, must climb to the second floor and attic of the building.

The amount appropriated for the buildings by the act of 1893 was eight thousand dollars, while the amount actually expended was eleven thousand eight hundred and thirty-four dollars and seventy-eight cents, thus creating a deficit in that account of three thousand eight hundred and thirty-four dollars and seventy-eight cents, as shown by the report of the board of trustees.

Your committee find the following to be the number of employés and amounts paid to each per month: Commandant, eighty-three dollars and thirty-three cents; adjutant, fifty dollars; surgeon, forty-one dollars and sixty-six cents; matron, thirty dollars; cook, fifty dollars; assistant cook, ten dollars; laundress, twenty dollars; dining-room girl, twelve dollars; assistant matron, twelve dollars; teamster, twenty-five dollars; farmer and gardner, thirty dollars; mail carrier and laborer, ten dollars. Total, three hundred and seventy-three dollars and ninety-nine cents per month, or four thousand four hundred and eighty-six dollars per year. It will be seen that this is four hundred and seventy-six dollars, more than one third ( $\frac{1}{3}$ ) of the entire yearly appropriation for the maintenance of the home, and does not include what is paid to inmates who labor on the farm.

This amount seems to your committee to be far above the necessary requirements and ought to be reduced.

Section 15 of the act of 1893 reads as follows: "Said board of trustees shall regularly meet on the first Tuesday of March, June, September, and December, and shall at such times be authorized to audit the accounts of the said soldiers' home; and upon the approval thereof, said secretary shall make a statement of said accounts, which said statement shall be certified as correct by the president and secretary of said board of trustees, and shall then be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who shall then draw warrants upon the funds which may be appropriated or from time to time set aside for soldiers' home funds for the payment of the same; provided, that all warrants so drawn shall designate upon their face the purpose for which the same may be drawn, and that the same be paid from the soldiers' home fund."

The report of the board of trustees covering a period of eighteen months from May, 1893, to October, 1894, shows that there were held during that time eight meetings of the executive committee of the board, consisting of three members, and twenty-two meetings of the full board, or thirty meetings in all. Now, taking this land, covered with timber as it was, clearing it, erecting the building, furnishing it, and with all the minor details necessary for its completion and occupancy, and all this required more than quarterly meetings of the board, your committee do not deny, but freely admit. But it must be remembered that the construction of the building was by contract, as was the plumbing, and as the clearing of the land should have been, and that all these meetings of the board were necessary your committee cannot believe, nor was there any evidence whatever produced before the committee to show this necessity. We are constrained then to say that it shows, if nothing worse, a lamentable want of business capacity on the part of the board of trustees. Your committee further find that the sum of five dollars per day was charged by the members of the board of trustees for each day's attendance on the meetings of the board in direct violation of section 18 of the act of 1893, which is as follows: "Said trustees shall not receive any compensation for their services, but they shall be entitled to their actual expenses incurred while attending the sessions, or in attending to the transaction of any business by and under the direction of said board of trustees." We also call your attention to the following communication from the secretary of state containing an opinion of the attorney-general, as the trustees claim that the charge of five dollars per day was legitimate and made to pay for help employed by them in their absence in attending the meetings of the board.

SALEM, Oregon, January 8, 1894.

Mr. A. J. Bellows, Trustee, Oregon Soldiers' Home, Roseburg, Oregon—

DEAR SIR: Enclosed please find voucher No. 5229 for twelve dollars and fifty cents—four dollars less than the total amount of your bill. This disallowed item is for the "cost of labor hired while absent." I have referred this matter to the attorney-general, and, in his opinion, he states: "A member of the board of trustees of the soldiers' home, while absent in attendance upon a board meeting, employs a man to take his place on the farm during his absence and pays him for his services four dollars, would it be proper to audit and allow said member this item? I am of the opinion that it would not be proper so to do. Section 18 of the act of 1893, providing for the appointment of the board of trustees of the home, provides that said trustees shall not receive any compensation for their services, but they shall be entitled to their actual expenses incurred while attending the sessions, or in attending to the transaction of any business by and under the directions of said board of trustees."

The language of the statute quoted does not indicate that the legislature intended the allowance of such claims as the one above referred to. Such a construction would leave to the several members of the board of trustees the discretion to estimate their services at any price they might see fit, and indirectly make the state compensate them most handsomely therefor.

I have for the above reason disallowed the item first referred to in this letter.

I remain, yours very respectfully,

GEO. W. McBRIDE,
Secretary of state.

Your committee find that the following amounts have been received by different members of the board of trustees for attendance on its meetings: J. W. Mullen, two hundred dollars; Charles Nickell, two hundred and sixty dollars; S. S. Train, one hundred and ninety-five dollars; James Byron, two hundred and ten dollars; A. J. Bellows, thirty dollars. We desire it to be understood that these charges are in excess of the regular car fare and Pullman car fare and other expenses. These amounts being as follows: Charles Nickell, two hundred and six dollars; S. S. Train, one hundred and sixty-three dollars; James Byron, fifty-one dollars; the latter living twelve miles in the country, and Messrs. Mullen and Bellows living in Roseburg. The total amount of these charges being one thousand three hundred and fifteen dollars, of which sum eight hundred and ninety-five dollars was paid themselves by the board of trustees in direct violation of law. Your committee find that Trustee Bellows, after attending six meetings of the board and charging per diem for the same, but coming to the conclusion that this charge was contrary to the spirit and intention of the law, he thereafter discontinued it. He also claims to have returned to the state the full amount thus wrongfully taken. It will be noticed that the per diem of S. S. Train, as above given, was one hundred and ninety-five dollars. He also claims to have made good to the state the sum of fifty dollars, the above amount being his salary for one quarter, as secretary of the board of trustees, which he did not draw. Your committee note these facts in justice to Messrs. Bellows and Train. But your committee cannot fail to note that, allowing the return to the state of fifty dollars by Mr. Train, there yet remains the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars salary as secretary of the board of trustees for three fourths of the year, while it was in evidence before your committee that Mr. Train did not perform the labor, but that it was performed by the commandant and adjutant of the home.

In May, 1893, J. W. Mullen and Charles Nickell, members of the board of trustees, visited the soldiers' home at Yountville and Santa Monica, California, and obtained free passes over the Southern Pacific railroad, as the following correspondence had with Mr. T. H. Goodman, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, will show:—

ROSEBURG, Oregon, April 24, 1893.

Mr. T. H. Goodwin, San Francisco, California.—

DEAR SIR AND COMRADE: Your local agent at this place, Mr. Estes, has kindly shown me your letter to him concerning the matter of transportation asked for by Mr. Mullen of our board of trustees. After a brief presentation of our case, I trust that you will be able to grant our request securing to us the necessary transportation over your road. Briefly, it is this: The Oregon legislature appropriated so small a sum for us to accomplish anything looking toward the early completion of this much-needed enterprise, it is necessary for us to use the most rigid economy in every particular. None of the board being familiar with the workings of such a home, we feel it to be a necessity for some of us to make a personal visit to such homes as are available, so that we may avoid making costly mistakes that would be likely to happen did we not have an opportunity of gaining all the information possible. I have just returned from a visit to the home at Orting, Washington. From what I learned from my brief stay there clearly proved to me that a day spent at Yountville and also at Santa Monica would be of greatest value to us. I hope you will not take this as a criticism to your management, but in justice to myself as a member of the board, I think we are entitled to the same consideration from the Southern Pacific Company as has been given us by the Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, and also Hunt's system.

Wishing to meet the committee on the home at the Grand Army of the Republic encampment just held at Pendleton, I stated my case to Mr. Ord, of the Union Pacific, at Portland, and was given a pass for all the Grand Army of the Republic members of the board from that city to Portland. Then being anxious to gain as much time as possible, I determined to go to Orting before returning to Roseburg, and Mr. Prescott, of the Northern Pacific, at Portland, gave us a pass from Pasco to Orting and then go back to Kalama. Now here are two roads so located that they will never be benefited one dollar by our enterprise, whose managers, looking at the great merits and public character of such an institution in its true light, kindly gave us all we asked for. Will your road do less? When you take into account the fact that all the lumber and material to be used has to be transported over your road and the supplies for its maintenance for all time also, don't you think we are reasonable in our request? Comrade, I want you to be just as fair as I try to be. I know without your telling me the extent to which the granting of passes are abused and in my private character, as a citizen, I would be the last to ask any favor not accorded to the rest of the public, for I am an ardent believer that all men pay as they go. That I am now and am likely to be in position that will be of value to your road I am certain. Understand me not in any way that would not invite the closest scrutiny, but as a man that realizes the great importance your road holds in its bearings on the future welfare and prosperity of the Pacific coast, and is willing to give it credit as such, which I am sorry to say is almost the exception instead of the rule. If you wish to inform yourself as to who I am, I can refer you to Paymaster Reid, who is well acquainted with me. If my memory is not at fault, I think I met you at the national encampment, at Portland, Maine, where I was a delegate from Portland, Oregon, and had a pass which I earned in aiding to get the next encampment at your city. That the object of present request is more worthy than any you are likely to be called upon to aid, I am sure, and, with this presentment, I leave the matter in your hands.

Yours in F., C. and L.,

A. J. BELLOWES.

On May 8th I received the following reply:—

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5, 1893.

Mr. A. J. Bellows, Roseburg, Oregon—

DEAR SIR: On returning early this week after an absence at the east your letter of the twenty-first ultimo was handed to me by Mr. Donaldson, my assistant. He was inclined to do what you asked, but, expecting my return at any moment, preferred I should act, hence the delay. With this apology for seeming nonattention, we beg to say we will comply with your request and arrange for the free transportation desired for the three members of your committee from Coles to Santa Monica and return. On being furnished with the names of the members by Mr. Mullen we will at once communicate with him through our agent, Mr. Estes.

Respectfully yours,

T. H. GOODMAN.

Following this an effort was made to secure a copy of Mr. Mullen's letter to Mr. Goodman, asking for free transportation, and of which Mr. Bellows' letter, as quoted above, was a supplement. Mr. Goodman replied as follows:—

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1895.

625

SAN FRANCISCO, February 6, 1894.

Mr. A. J. Bellows, Secretary, Oregon Soldiers' Home, Roseburg, Oregon—

DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of your favor of the second instant. I still am of the opinion that it would not be the proper thing for me to give you a copy of the correspondence asked without an official request is made on me for the same.

You say that the majority of the board of trustees would not coincide with you in asking for these copies. It seems singular they should not if they have a desire to maintain proper "decorum." I might say among themselves as a body, and retain the good will of our company. Mr. Mullens' original letter asked for free transportation so that the home might receive the benefit thereof, at least I think any one would concur with us in our opinion that such was the tenor of the request. The passes would certainly never have been given under other circumstances.

You say that you introduced a resolution before the board that the money thus charged up be refunded, and this was done under the advice of Governor Pennoyer. It occurs to me that the governor, as the executive officer of the state of Oregon, controls the home, and could therefore very consistently duplicate your request. Should he do so I certainly will comply.

I will add that Mr. Mullen has recently asked for passes for two more of your people, which request I deemed it but right to decline, we having in effect our M. W. F. rates of one fare from Roseburg to San Francisco and return, and special rates then to Santa Monica.

Very respectfully,

T. H. GOODMAN.

It will thus be seen that Trustees Mullen and Nickell received free passes solely that the home might be benefited that much and on account of the small appropriation it had received, but notwithstanding this fact well known to them, Messrs. Mullen and Nickell charged and received from the state the full amount of the fare. Mr. Nickell justifies his conduct in the matter and incidentally replies to Judge Fullerton, who had given it as his opinion that the act was unlawful, as follows:—

JACKSONVILLE, July 11, 1893.

Mr. A. J. Bellows—

DEAR SIR: I have been absent from home some time and in looking over the correspondence find your letter advising me of the return of our transportation vouchers to the secretary of state.

I am greatly surprised at your action in this matter, and am at a loss to know how you could assume the authority of annulling or countermanding the action of the board. This is an assumption on your part wholly unauthorized by your position. The opinion by Judge Fullerton is that of an individual, nothing more, and entirely gratuitous, for the reason that the matter is not up for judicial investigation. It is surprising that Judge Fullerton would step aside to render an opinion upon a matter not properly and legally before him. The board in its official capacity passed upon and authorized the payment of the vouchers, and it was its privilege and right to do so, and certainly no one member of the board could assume the authority of undoing its work. It is well known that legislators and many people ride on passes and still get their mileage, but this has nothing to do with the matter. We are entitled to transportation from the state; if we can secure it from companies through individual influence it is a matter with which the state has nothing to do, and in no sense relieves the state of its obligations. If we chose to walk the state would be liable for the transportation just the same, as if we actually paid our fare. The above being the undeniable facts in the case, I hope you will write to the secretary of state at once and order the vouchers returned so we can get our warrants.

Yours, very truly,

CHARLES NICKELL.

Your committee will dismiss the subject here, simply premising that the laudable object of saving money for the Oregon Soldiers' Home did not seem to be the ruling motive in the lives of Messrs. Mullen and Nickell, at that time. Immediately following this trip of Messrs. Mullen and Nickell to California the board dispatched Mr. Baldwin, the commandant, and Mrs. Sada Watkins, the matron, to visit the soldiers' home at Orting, Washington, Mr. Bellows having visited the same place earlier in the spring. On their return and still on information bent, the board sent Baldwin over the same route Mullen and Nickell had taken to Santa Monica and Yountville, California. That Mr. Baldwin did not ride on the breakbeam, nor get his meals at the soup-house, is evident from the bill of particulars which he presented on his return. Railroad fare paid out, forty-eight dollars and fifty cents; Pullman fare paid, twelve dollars; hotel bills, sixty dollars; clerical assistance, car fare, and incidentals, ten dollars; total, one hundred and thirty dollars and fifty cents.

Your committee find certain vouchers drawn in favor of Mr. Mullen amounting to one hundred and eighty dollars for what he terms "expense at home grounds." What the term "expense at home grounds" means, your committee cannot determine, nor could Mr. Mullen himself make it at all clear. The report of the board of trustees shows several hundred vouchers drawn in favor of Mr. Mullen, but what he did with the money or who received it, your committee could not ascertain. In one instance, it was shown your committee, the party for whom Mr. Mullen drew the money never received it. In this connection we desire to condemn in the most emphatic manner this so-called report of the board of trustees. It is composed of several hundred items thrown promiscuously together without system, aim, or method. Your committee has searched for days through its labyrinth of particulars to get something tangible and definite. Nor does the board of trustees seem to know much about it. It seems intended only to confuse and confound the searcher for information from its incongruous pages.

A large part of the printing for the home has been done by the Times Printing Company of Jacksonville, of which company Mr. Nickell is a member. The report of the board of trustees shows but few items, the cost of which can be compared with the same produced by other companies, but we have selected such as can be and have compared the cost of the same with those produced by Ross Moores and E. M. Waite of Salem, and two firms in Portland, and find that in every case the Times Publishing Company has charged fifty per cent. more for the same work than is charged by the firms above named. We have examined as far as possible the blank books furnished by said company, the other items above mentioned being different styles of envelopes and letter-heads, and believe that the whole amount of printing done by this company, and aggregating over five hundred dollars, has cost the state fifty per cent. more than if done by any other printing company in the state of Oregon. In concluding this report your committee desire to say that we have endeavored to do justice and spare not. And in this connection we desire again to mention the fact that Mr. Train returned, indirectly, fifty dollars of the money wrongfully withheld by him, and in justice to Mr. Bellows we will say that, beginning a career of dishonesty with the other members of the board, he early saw the injustice of his course, and did what he could to make amends for his wrongdoing. He has assisted us very materially in obtaining evidence and information, and has made a clean breast as far as we are able to determine of the whole matter.

The citizens of Roseburg have an interest in this home and its good name more direct and important than the citizens of any other part of the state. They desire that no scandal of any kind shall come upon it. They desire the fullest investigation of its management. They want no man, whoever he may be, to escape who has done it an act of injustice. They have been represented on this committee and every fair minded person in Roseburg will acquiesce in its conclusions. The mismanagement of the affairs of the home becoming a matter of notoriety, the department commander of the department of Oregon Grand Army of the Republic on last September appointed a committee of five members of that order to make an investigation and report at this session of the legislative assembly. The department commander has withheld that report from your committee and we knew nothing of its import until our own report was entirely prepared. We herewith submit that report:—

PORTLAND, Oregon, January 12, 1895.

Hon. B. F. Alley, Senator from Lane County—

DEAR SIR AND COMRADE: At a meeting of a special committee in behalf of the Oregon home for old soldiers, appointed by the department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, to look after the interests of the old soldiers at the coming session of the legislature, and to coöperate with a joint committee which, no doubt, will be appointed for that purpose. After a careful examination of the management of the funds by the present board, we find that there has been an extravagant and careless management of the funds of the home, and the improper expenditure of the funds thus far leaves quite a large deficit now existing which might have been avoided with ordinary business ability and management, as the accompanying paper will fully show you.

We also hand you a consolidated statement of the funds, which will show about what each member has received and applied to his own gain. Also, several members have taken certain contracts for supplies to themselves at their own prices. We would particularly call your attention to the payment of certain warrants to J. W. Mullen for sundry accounts which were claimed to have been done for the home, but for which there seems to be no receipt but the one of J. W. Mullen. The board has only his statement and receipt for the various claims.

In view of these facts the committee of the Grand Army of the Republic of the department do most earnestly recommend that the names of the present board be not confirmed by the senate, and that that part of the unfinished business of the senate be referred back to the governor, who, we feel satisfied, will appoint a new board that will act with the proper business ability, both in the interest of the old soldiers and the generous public of this state, who are willing to pay any reasonable tax for the benefit of all worthy old soldiers.

Yours in F., C. and L.,

O. SUMMERS,
Chairman of committee Grand Army of the Republic.

Whereas the present board of managers of the Oregon State Soldiers' Home have shown extravagant and useless expenditure of the funds appropriated for the home; therefore, be it

Resolved by this committee, That we recommend the nonconfirmation of this board by the senate, and that their names be returned to His Excellency, Governor Lord, for a substitute committee for the supervision of the home, as provided by the law of the state.

Portland, Oregon; adopted January 12, 1895.

O. SUMMERS,

President of the committee for Grand Army of the Republic, department of Oregon.

For ourselves, your committee will say, we most emphatically condemn the system of petty larceny inaugurated and carried out by the board. They seem early in their history as a board to have fallen out among themselves, and while they pilfered from the state, varied the performance by backbiting each other. These men were not appointed for their fitness for the position, the prime object in their appointment being to locate the home, their qualifications and fitness being considered of secondary importance by the power that appointed them.

The Oregon Soldiers' Home began its existence opposed by many and subject to the criticism of an indifferent or hostile press. In no way could it secure the confidence and good will of the people of the state but by able, honest, clean, and economical administration of its affairs; but your committee is compelled to say that in its management the very reverse has been the case. It has not been able; it has not been honest; it has not been clean, and it has not been economical. In view, therefore, of all the information obtained and evidence produced to substantiate these undeniable facts, your committee would earnestly recommend that the nomination of the present board of trustees be not confirmed; and while your committee have no occasion to criticise in any manner the treatment of the inmates by the officers in charge, yet there are other and cogent reasons which prompt us to recommend that the higher officers of the home be superseded by others, and that the entire management of this institution be placed under the control of a new administration; and we will go farther and say that we believe that suit should be brought by the proper officer to compel the trustees to account for the money placed in their hands and to return the amount illegally taken by them. But for this trouble in the affairs of the home and cloud upon its management the recipients of its care are nowise responsible, nor should the legislative assembly be influenced by what has occurred in doing an act of justice to these men.

For want of accommodations the admissions to the home ceased several months since. There are at present in the home fifty-three inmates, and if proper accommodations could be secured the number would be doubled within the year. This class of persons must be supported by the state in some way, but in no way so cheaply as at the home.

It is found that the board of an inmate there is about thirty-four cents per day and the aid received from the general government will nearly cover that amount. The most pressing wants of the institution at the present time are a building for sleeping accommodations and a hospital. Your legislative body should grant these. You might do more; you should not do less.

Respectfully submitted.

B. F. ALLEY,

Committee on part of the senate.

C. P. YATES,

J. S. BOOTHBY,

J. E. BLUNDELL,

MORNING SESSION.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 21, 1895. }

The senate was called to order at 10 o'clock a. m., pursuant to adjournment, by the president.

The roll was called, and all the senators were present, except Senators Beckley and McGinn, who were absent on leave.

The morning session of the senate was opened with prayer by Rev. G. W. Grannis.

On motion of Senator Dawson, the reading of the journal of the proceedings of yesterday was dispensed with.

On motion of Senator Smith of Clatsop, senate bills Nos. 71 and 49 were made a special order of business at 11:30 a. m. today.

Senator Dawson, chairman of the special committee appointed under house concurrent resolution No. 5, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 21, 1895. }

Mr. President:

Your committee appointed under house concurrent resolution No. 5, to examine the books and accounts of the state treasurer's office, having performed the duty intrusted to it, beg leave to report as follows:

As authorized by your resolution, we employed expert accountants, who, by our direction and under such personal supervision as our legislative duties enabled us to give to the investigation, have found the following facts: A comparison of the entries of cash receipts for the fiscal years 1893 and 1894, each of which has been carefully compared with the cashbook and report of the treasurer, shows that all the money received from all sources has been recorded and accounted for, and that the totals are correct. An examination of the disbursements during the biennial term, and a comparison of the items with the warrants of the secretary of state, show that every payment has been made according to law, and correctly entered on the books. Every note and mortgage in the common school fund, university fund, and agricultural college fund has been examined, the payments of principal and interest compared with the indorsements on the notes and the entries on the cashbooks, and found correct. The notes on hand as per last report were also checked, and the notes or the amounts, in lieu thereof, found to be correct. The securities deposited by the various foreign insurance and express corporations to the amount of two million five hundred and fifty thousand dollars have been inspected by us and found to be as reported by the treasurer. We have also carefully examined the report of the treasurer as printed, and report to have found in the same several typographical and clerical errors; the latter were corrected and appear in the "errata" on page 278 of said printed report. The totals in said printed report will in some instances be found incorrect, owing to the corrections made as shown in exhibit "A" hereto attached and made a part of this report. The tabulated statements, however, as printed on pages 5 to 8, in the front of the printed report, are correct, and include all corrections of all clerical errors discovered by your committee.

Our accountants report that they have been greatly assisted by the willingness of the treasurer and his assistants to furnish all the information and documents needed, thus making the examination complete and exhaustive.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. A. DAWSON,
Chairman.
J. H. RALEY.

Senator Bancroft, chairman of the special committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 18, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 21, 1895. }

Mr. President:

The joint committee, appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 13, to investigate the management and condition of the Oregon State Insane Asylum, beg leave to report that we have discharged the duty assigned us.

We find that the patients are supplied with all things necessary for their comfort, that sufficient and wholesome food is furnished them and that the wards are kept in a cleanly manner, and the sanitary conditions are as near perfect as it is possible. A complete fire system and equipment is maintained and the safety of the patients in this respect as well guarded as is possible. The building known as the infirmary is a fine structure, and its arrangement such that there is but little, if any, danger from the spread of contagious diseases, should any break out or be introduced there. The treatment of the patients is humane and courteous, and the rules governing all things relating to the care, sustenance, and attention of the patients are complete, and a strict compliance required. The lands about the asylum and of the asylum farm are carefully and systematically cultivated, and under its present state of cultivation furnish all the vegetables and small fruits necessary for the maintenance of the employés and patients, and the further amount of roots and hay necessary to feed all the stock owned by this department. We have visited the asylum cottage farm and find all the improvements of substantial character in their construction. The buildings are all well made, comfortably furnished, and neatly kept.

The fences are good and the land under a good state of cultivation. Under the present careful management of the institution, the average cost per capita per month has been reduced from an average of twelve dollars and sixteen and four tenth cents per month at the close of the year, 1892, to an average at the close of the last year of nine dollars and twenty-three cents per month, making the present cost per capita of about thirty-two cents per day.

The library should not be neglected, as it is of great benefit to the patients. There are at present about one thousand inmates in the asylum, and the number is gradually increasing, the number reported at the last biennial session of the legislature being eight hundred and twenty-eight.

A thorough investigation of the books and accounts of the institution has been made by competent clerks, and in all particulars they have been found correct. From the present system of keeping accounts, however, we find that the bookkeeper at the asylum has no means of keeping his accounts in check with the secretary of state without considerable extra trouble and care on his part. We would recommend that the board adopt the following system, to wit: That the bookkeeper at the asylum be required to send duplicate bills attached to his vouchers when making his report to the board; that when a bill is audited and a warrant drawn for the same, the secretary of state shall stamp or indorse on the duplicate bill attached to the vouchers the number of the warrant, date of issuance and amount, and sign the same and return it to the asylum, or if a warrant is issued for any sum authorized and not received by voucher from the asylum, a bill of the same, stamped as above indicated, should be sent as in the former case. This would, in our opinion, be a complete check on both offices and prevent the liability of errors which might now exist.

We would further recommend that the quarterly payroll be made in triplicate, both original and duplicate being signed by the employés, and one deposited with the secretary of state, upon which he should issued his warrant for the total amount named therein in favor of the bookkeeper. The bookkeeper should then deposit the duplicate payroll with the treasurer at the time of cashing his warrant, and pay the employés their several amounts as reported on the payroll, he retaining the triplicate copy. These payrolls should all be stamped or indorsed by the secretary of state, as above indicated in relation to the vouchers.

In order that the state and employés may be protected, the bookkeeper at the asylum should be required to give a good and sufficient bond in such sum as the board may name. This latter system would save a great deal of work both to the secretary of state and state treasurer, and be far less trouble to the employés than the present system.

In the matter of charges against the management of the asylum your committee would further report that it has held three stated meetings, each of which were publicly advertised under the statement that it would receive and consider any charges regarding the improper management of the affairs of the asylum properly brought before it. No charges were preferred at any of these meetings, and we are of the opinion that none can be brought affecting in any way the careful and proper management of the institution.

In all our examinations the superintendent has been very courteous in his demeanor, careful in his explanations, and has insisted on a thorough and searching investigation.

The bookkeeper was courteous and obliging, and during the examination of the books and papers gave his aid and all assistance required in the investigation.

F. A. BANCROFT,
Chairman on the part of senate.
C. A. SEHLBREDE,
Chairman on the part of house.

On motion of Senator Bancroft, the report was adopted.

Whereas there has been created a reserve, known as the Crater lake reserve; and whereas there has been no one in charge of said reserve; and whereas there has been within the limits of said reserve wanton destruction of timber by the ravages of fires, carelessly allowed to spread; and whereas all game within such reserve is being rapidly exterminated by hunters; and whereas the state of Oregon has no jurisdiction over said reserve; now, therefore, the legislature of the state of Oregon memorialize the president, and ask that he shall appoint a guardian, who shall have charge of said reserve, and who shall have authority to prevent any person or persons from despoiling the above mentioned reserve.

The president announced that he was about to sign house joint resolutions Nos. 13 and 14, and house concurrent resolutions Nos. 13 and 30, and soon thereafter declared that he had signed the same.

Senator Gesner, chairman of the committee on public buildings, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 21, 1895. }

Mr. President:

Your committee on public buildings would respectfully submit the following report of the condition of the Oregon insane asylum:

At the asylum we found everything running with a system and despatch that reflect credit on the management; cleanliness, order, and neatness prevailed in every department, and we saw no evidence of waste or mismanagement.

We investigated the estimates for appropriations for the ensuing term, as recommended by the superintendent and approved by the board of trustees, and find them all essential and moderate, and urge that they be granted.

We further recommend the following items, which we think are necessary:

The barn at the main institution has become decayed and insecure, necessitating many general repairs, and should have a good shed added; the cost of such repairs and additions would be about two thousand dollars. A shed is badly needed for storing straw used for filling beds; a suitable structure could be erected for eight hundred dollars.

Three catch-basins should be supplied to improve the sewerage system; their cost would amount to two hundred dollars. A hot water heater with pump and lifter would soon save its cost in fuel by supplying hot instead of cold water to the large boilers; such apparatus would cost five hundred dollars.

The cemetery at the main institution will soon have to be abandoned on account of its proximity to the city; we therefore recommend the preparation of one at the cottage farm, for which two hundred dollars should be appropriated.

The buildings at the main institution are so extensive that a system of telephones would greatly facilitate its management and save a great deal of labor. Suitable telephones can now be purchased outright for twelve or fifteen dollars apiece, so that the necessary instruments and wiring could be supplied for five hundred dollars.

The convenience of the main building would also be greatly increased by an elevator, the estimated cost of which is one thousand dollars.

The new building at the cottage farm, five miles from the main building, comprising a cottage for male patients with a capacity for seventy-five, a cottage for female patients of similar dimensions, a congregate dining-hall capable of seating two hundred persons, and a building for engine-room, laundry, and tank tower combined, are all substantially constructed and handsome buildings, well arranged for the purpose for which they are intended. The basements, which are much needed for storerooms, can be but little used during the wet seasons on account of having dirt floors. We would recommend that cement floors be put in each, which would greatly increase their utility and render them dry and more healthful. The estimated cost of such an improvement is about four hundred dollars.

While economy seems to prevade every department connected with the asylum, may it be said to the credit of Superintendent Rowland that he has kept all buildings and improvements in the best of repairs, not seeking to make a showing of economy by allowing the various state buildings and improvements to lapse into decay.

Respectfully submitted.

ALONZO GESNER,
Chairman.

On motion of Senator Gesner, the report was adopted and ordered spread upon the minutes.

Senator Denny, chairman of the special committee on the part of the senate under senate concurrent resolution No. 4, submitted the following report:

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 20, 1895. }

Mr. President:

We, your committee, appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 4 to examine the books and accounts of the secretary of state, beg leave to report that we met on the twenty-sixth day of January, 1895, and employed, in accordance with the authority granted in said concurrent resolution, two competent experts and two clerks.

They have carefully examined each voucher, and report that they were all made out according to law, each being duly approved, sworn to, and signed. They have compared the warrant stubbooks, abstract-books, and sub-fund books and ledgers, and declare that after making proper trial balances and testing each account and balance separately they found the balances in each case to be correct. They have also checked off the treasurer's receipts for moneys received, four thousand eight hundred and thirty-four in number, filed in the secretary's office, and compared them with the abstract-books and ledgers and assure us that not a single error was discovered.

We found a marked increase in the business of the office within the last two years, nine thousand nine hundred and twenty-four warrants having been drawn during that period against six thousand two hundred and eighteen during the preceding two years. The number of these warrants could, however, be greatly reduced if a different system for the payment of the employes at the several state institutions was adopted. For instance, it is now the custom to make out the pay rolls of the insane asylum, have them signed by the employes, and, after they have been audited and approved by the board of asylum trustees, to issue a warrant to each one of the hundred employes. These men have then to go to the treasurer's office, or give written authority to some other person, to draw their money. The plain, economical, business way would be to have these pay rolls made out in duplicate, and, after they have been properly audited and approved by the board, for the secretary to issue his warrant for the entire amount of the roll in favor of the superintendent, who then ought to draw the money and pay all the employes at the same time. After having been duly signed by the employes at the time they receive their money, one copy should be retained by the superintendent for his own protection, and the other filed with the secretary of state as a voucher. This same system for the payment of employes ought to be adopted at all the other state institutions. We would call your attention to what Secretary McBride said upon this subject in his report of 1893: "The estimates for additional clerical service in this office are based upon present necessities; but the amount and cost of clerical service will be increased before the close of the ensuing term unless the law requiring a separate warrant to be issued in payment of the quarterly salary of each person employed in any of the state institutions be amended. A saving in the cost of clerical service could be effected by a law providing that the duly approved pay rolls of each public institution should be paid by one warrant, drawn in favor of the superintendent of such institution, whose duty it should be to pay the several amounts due to the individual employes according to such pay roll. A bond could be required of the superintendent of each institution, so that the state would be fully protected in every way. I am informed that this is the practice in many states, and there seems to be no reasonable objection to its adoption in Oregon."

As above stated the experts and clerks employed by this committee checked off four thousand eight hundred and thirty-four receipts for moneys received by the treasurer. These moneys are paid by the different parties owing the state to the treasurer and he gives his separate receipt for each payment. These payments are entered into proper books by the treasurer and duplicate receipts filed with the secretary, who, in his turn, records them in books in his office but has no personal knowledge of these transactions or their correctness; his keeping these books is, therefore, though required by law, no check whatever upon the books of the state treasurer and of no practical value.

We find the records in the secretary's office in first-class condition and skillfully kept, and his clerical force attentive, courteous, and competent, but the manner of keeping some of the accounts and books could be greatly simplified and much unnecessary labor avoided.

We find that no account of the session laws, journals, supreme court reports, stationery, fuel, furniture, and other property purchased by or coming into the hands of the secretary of state, has ever been kept or been required by law to be kept since the organization of the state government, and, while the retiring secretary of state has exercised great diligence in taking proper care of and in the expenditure of all property and the distribution of the books according to law, it appears to us that the secretary ought to keep an account of all these transactions and render a full report regarding the receipt and disposition of all property belonging to the state and coming in his possession or under his control. We would therefore recommend that the secretary of state be required to take an inventory of all the property of the state turned over to him by the outgoing secretary or found in the capitol building of the state and hereafter make out an annual return, showing the property on hand at the beginning of the year, the property purchased or received during the year, the expenditures made during the year, and the balance on hand at the end of the year. All expenditures ought to be supported by proper vouchers exhibiting how the different articles were used or to whom issued.

Section 2 of article VI of the constitution of the state of Oregon provides that the secretary of state "shall be, by virtue of his office, auditor of public accounts," and subdivision 7 of section 2207 of the laws of Oregon (Hill's annotated codes and general laws of Oregon) provides that the secretary shall "examine and determine the claims of all persons against the state in cases where provisions for the payment thereof shall have been made by law, and to indorse upon the same the amount due and allowed thereon, and from what fund the same is to be paid, and draw a warrant upon the treasurer for the same; and he shall report to the legislature, at the commencement of each regular session a complete list of all accounts so audited * * *"

We would point out to your honorable body, without wishing to reflect upon the manner in which the provisions of the above law, based upon an article in our state constitution, have been carried out and attended to by the gentlemen that have filled the office of secretary of state, that the principle of making a disbursing officer the auditor of his own accounts and those of his fellow-officers in the state government is wrong and not productive of the best results. The auditor ought to be an officer entirely distinct and separate of and in no way connected with any of the departments, boards, and commissions authorized to contract any indebtedness on behalf of the state. It ought to be the duty of the auditor to examine and pass upon the legality and reasonableness of any claim against the state, contracted by any department or officer of the state before a warrant is drawn for the payment of the same. But the creation of such an office would require an amendment to the constitution authorizing the same and defining its duties. In connection with this matter we would refer you to the statements and recommendations upon this subject made by Secretary McBride in his report of 1893.

In conclusion, we beg to report that after a most thorough and searching investigation we found that the office of the secretary of state has been kept in a creditable, efficient, and proper manner.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

O. N. DENNY.

N. L. BUTLER.

Mr. President:

Your special committee, consisting of the senators from Multnomah county, to whom was referred house bill No. 384, beg leave to report that we have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report it back to the senate with the recommendation that it do pass.

F. A. BANCROFT,
Chairman.

On motion of Senator Calbreath, house bill No. 384 was ordered to third reading.

The president announced that he was about to sign house bill No. 283 and soon thereafter declared that he had signed the same. Senator Woodard introduced senate resolution No. 30.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 30.

Resolved, That in order to expedite business, all debate on third reading of house bills be limited to one minute, and that no senator be allowed to speak more than once upon any bill, except by consent of the senate; provided, that the senator having charge of a bill may be allowed three minutes.

On motion of Senator Woodard, the resolution was adopted.

The majority of the committee appointed under senate resolution No. 10, to whom was referred that part of Governor Lord's message referring to the purchase of the foundry at the state penitentiary, submitted the following report:—

MAJORITY REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 20, 1895. }

Mr. President:

We, your committee appointed under senate resolution No. 10, to consider and report upon the following extracts from Governor Lord's comprehensive and able message, "It is never wise for a state to buy an enterprise which prudent men are anxious to get rid of. There is an impression among some of our people that the purchase of the foundry plant and its operation with convict labor has not been productive of profit or advantage to the state. The idea briefly is that 'an elephant' was unloaded upon the state. I trust there is no foundation for such impression, but that facts will disclose that the foundry has been successfully and profitably operated, furnishing regular employment for the convicts, and making the penitentiary in a great measure a self-sustaining institution. It is your duty to ascertain what is the true state of the case; * * *"—beg leave to report that we have visited the foundry at the penitentiary and have thoroughly inspected the plant purchased by the state from the Northwestern Foundry Company, the books and accounts of the superintendent, Mr. R. B. Fleming, and the merchandise, supplies, and manufactured goods on hand. The buildings, machinery, and tools appear to be in good condition, and give evidence that much care has been taken by the superintendent and his assistants in their use and maintenance. The books were well kept and every facility was given us for their examination; but we find that the manner of ascertaining the results of the last twenty months' operations was rather peculiar, and we have not been able to arrive at the same conclusions.

Exhibit "B" shows a large "profit on the sales and on the market value of manufactured goods on hand," and it appears to us that to inventory goods still on hand, and before a market had been found for them, at prices they were expected to bring when sold, was certainly a new departure from the usual course adopted by manufacturers, merchants, and business men generally. Goods, or products of a factory, still in stock are always put down in an inventory at what they actually cost to purchase or produce, and not at what they are expected under the uncertain and unknown conditions of a future market to be sold for. If the estimated profits on the goods, not yet disposed of, are deducted, the gross profits stated in the report of the superintendent will be materially reduced.

The foundry plant was purchased by the state from the Northwestern Foundry Company on the first day of May, 1893, and has, therefore, been in use, under its present management, up to the thirty-first of December last, for twenty months, and has, certainly, in consequence of such use, greatly depreciated in value. Every manufacturer writes off, at the end of each year, when he takes an inventory of his effects, a certain percentage, generally ten per cent., on account of wear and tear, from the cost of his machinery, tools, and fixtures. This was not done by the superintendent, but he informs us that, in his opinion, sufficient new patterns have been added and the machines improved and repaired to such an extent as to make the plant practically worth as much now as it was at the time it was purchased by the state. The books do not show such additions or betterments, for the reason, as Superintendent Fleming states, that nearly all the labor connected therewith was performed by convicts.

We think that it would also be proper, in order to ascertain whether the investment by the state of sixty-five thousand dollars for purposes of this foundry was a profitable one, to calculate a reasonable interest on the amount so employed. No interest account has been kept and no mention was made in the superintendent's report regarding such charges.

After careful investigation and due consideration, we have come to the conclusion that the purchase of the plant by the state, as provided for in section 20 of the act approved February 18, 1893, was not a judicious one, and that, though had the times been more prosperous and had it been possible to work the plant to its utmost capacity and find a ready market for all its products, different results might probably have been produced, the enterprise could under no circumstances have been made, nor can the same be made in the future, successful and profitable. The only benefit that the state seems to have received from this large investment is that partial employment has been found for a limited number of the convicts, about one hundred and fifty, for three days a week.

O. N. DENNY,
W. W. STEIWER,
Committee.

Senator Cogswell, a member of the committee appointed under senate resolution No. 10, submitted the following minority report:—

MINORITY REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 21, 1895. }

Mr. President:

The undersigned, a member of your special committee appointed under senate resolution No. 10, to consider and report upon the following extracts from the message of Governor Lord, "It is never wise for a state to buy an enterprise which prudent men are anxious to get rid of. There is an impression among some of our people that the purchase of the foundry plant and its operation with convict labor has not been productive of profit or advantage to the state. The idea is that 'an elephant' was unloaded upon the state. I trust there is no foundation for such impression, but that facts will disclose that the foundry has been successfully and profitably operated, furnishing regular employment for convicts, and making the penitentiary in a great measure a self-sustaining institution. It is your duty to ascertain what is the true state of the case; * * *—"beg leave to submit the following report:

The foundry at the penitentiary has been in operation during the past twenty months with satisfactory results, and after a careful examination of the plant, stock, books, and the methods employed by Superintendent R. B. Fleming, who has been acting under the supervision of the governor, secretary of state, and state treasurer as a board of managers, find that the institution has been well managed; and while it has not been made as profitable as when operated under the contract system on account of the general business depression, it has given employment to a large number of the convicts, and thus served the principal purpose for which it is maintained by the state. The plant is in excellent condition, and is worth more than when the state purchased it, as there has been added thereto over seven thousand dollars in new patterns, machinery, and improvements. These additions and improvements are considered as more than offsetting any depreciation on account of wear during the twenty months of operation.

After a careful examination of the report of the board of managers in connection with an investigation of the foundry plant, books, etc., I find that said report is correct, with the exception of the method used in computing the "value of manufactured goods on hand" in exhibit B, as the inventory of manufactured goods on hand should be at the actual cost and not the computed selling value.

The stock on hand at actual cost shows as follows: Stoves and ranges, four hundred and forty-four thousand one hundred and sixty-eight pounds, at three cents, thirteen thousand three hundred and twenty-five dollars and four cents; sets of stove castings, thirteen thousand nine hundred and eighty-eight pounds, at three cents, four hundred and nineteen dollars and sixty-four cents; hollowware, twenty-six thousand one hundred and sixty-eight pounds, at three cents, seven hundred and eighty-five dollars and four cents; miscellaneous castings, one hundred and eighty-two thousand three hundred and six pounds, at three cents, five thousand four hundred and sixty-nine dollars and eighteen cents; miscellaneous supplies, three thousand one hundred and eighty-nine dollars and ninety-eight cents; pig iron, six hundred and nineteen dollars and fifty cents; fuel, coke, and wood, nine hundred and nine dollars and seven cents; cost of manufactured goods and stock on hand, twenty-four thousand seven hundred and seventeen dollars and forty-five cents. The total sales amount to forty-two thousand and six dollars and eighty-eight cents, making a total merchandise credit of sixty-six thousand seven hundred and twenty-four dollars and thirty-three cents. The total cost of materials and supplies being thirty-nine thousand four hundred and six dollars and forty-one cents, leaves the gross profits at twenty-seven thousand three hundred and seventeen dollars and ninety-two cents, and deducting the amount expended for labor, salaries, etc., of fourteen thousand eight hundred and sixty dollars and sixty-one cents, gives net profits at cost of twelve thousand four hundred and fifty-seven dollars and thirty-one cents.

It is a well known fact that during the past two years but very few manufacturing enterprises have been conducted with much profit, while many have succumbed to the general depression. That the foundry has not only been self-supporting, but has a cash balance of four thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight dollars and fifteen cents, and outstanding accounts receivable of twelve thousand six hundred and four dollars and fifteen cents, speaks well for the management and shows it to be a profitable institution for the state. As to whether the state paid more for the plant than should have been paid, I am not sufficiently advised to give an opinion. If such was the case, the fault lies with the law which compelled the governor, secretary of state, and state treasurer to purchase this identical plant, and as they had no discretion in the matter, but were obliged to make the purchase whether it was offered for a reasonable price or not, the wonder is that the owners did not compel them to pay the entire sum of sixty-five thousand dollars, which was appropriated. The law directing this purchase will be found on page 22, section 20 of the laws of 1893.

Senator Alley, chairman of the special committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 9, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 23, 1895. }

Mr. President:

Your committee, appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 9, to investigate the manner in which the state printing has been done during the past two years, beg leave to submit their report.

In pursuance of the above named concurrent resolution, the senate and house standing committees on printing took charge of all the printing done for the several departments and of all other printing required by law for which bills have been rendered to the secretary of state. A number of clerks were employed, and two experts, practical printers, were secured to have the technical features fully covered, examined, and measured.

The experts, under the direction of your committee, have covered the ground required by the concurrent resolution, and have carefully compared all the bills and measured and examined the work done in the past two years. We find that before any money is paid for public printing, the state expert, appointed by the governor, must measure the work and allow only the rates prescribed by law, and also certify to the amount of the work done and the correctness of the measurements. This duty has been performed by Captain John O'Brien, a competent practical printer, and his work was done accurately and well.

The state is supplied with one of the best printing plants in the northwest, placed in the capitol building by ex-State Printer Baker, and any and all work has been performed with despatch and in the highest style of the printing art. Its location in the capitol building has aided greatly in expediting needed legislation and preventing delay that would be caused by an inadequate plant and distance from the legislature. As the state grows and business of the legislature increases, so does the volume of public printing, necessitating a larger appropriation.

The increase in the past two years has been greater than during the former biennial term, but it is reasonable and commensurate with state development. This much can and should be said. During the eight years of ex-State Printer Baker's incumbency there has been no bill or measure submitted and passed by the legislative assembly whose direct purpose was the creation of printing. All the increase is due to the creation of commissions and offices, which are compelled by law to make reports and be supplied with the necessary printing in the conduct of said commissions and offices.

The state printer has receipted to the secretary of state for all paper purchased for the public printing, and, as required by law, has kept a complete and systematic record showing for what purposes all the paper received by him was used. In conclusion, your committee herewith submits the report of the experts, which gives a full statement of what printing has been done and the compensation allowed for the same.

B. F. ALLEY,

Chairman senate committee on printing.

C. J. CURTIS,

Chairman house committee on printing.

To Messrs. Alley, Bancroft, and Raley, on the part of the Senate, and Messrs. Curtis, Beach, and Guild, on the part of the House—
GENTLEMEN: Herewith we submit our report to you as experts to measure and examine the work performed by the state printer.

In accordance with your instructions we secured from the secretary of state all the bills submitted for printing during the past two years, and from the state printer all the work performed by him, and measured and allowed by the state expert during the same period. This work we found in good order, and each sample to correspond with the bills on file in the office of the secretary of state. All the different kinds of work were carefully measured by the state expert in the manner prescribed by law, and the prices allowed were in strict accordance with the rates established by statute. The style and execution of the work is fully up to the best classes of work produced in the more progressive states. It is marked by knowledge, skill, and taste, and reflects creditably on the state printer and his workmen.

The cost of printing during the past two years, for the several departments, including deficiencies, is as follows: Executive department, including the offices of governor, secretary of state, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, land department, agricultural boards, and all other departments of state, thirty-eight thousand seven hundred and five dollars and two cents; legislative department, nineteen thousand five hundred and twenty-seven dollars and sixty-three cents; judicial department, one hundred and seventy-two dollars and twenty-nine cents; uniform series of school blanks, seven thousand three hundred and fifty-eight dollars and thirty cents; Oregon national guard, three thousand six hundred and sixty-three dollars and forty-four cents; session laws, one thousand four hundred and eighty-nine dollars and twenty-eight cents; school laws, seven hundred and forty-two dollars and eighty-three cents; election laws, one hundred and ninety-one dollars and thirteen cents; insurance laws, twenty-one dollars and thirty-one cents; world's fair commission, six hundred and sixty-two dollars and thirty-two cents; senate journal, one thousand one hundred and seventy-four dollars and thirty-four cents; house journal, one thousand two hundred and eighty dollars and fifteen cents; fish and game laws, eighty-five dollars.

Respectfully submitted.

GEO. HIBBERT,
W. F. OSBURN,

O. N. DENNY,
Chairman.

House bill No. 331 was ordered to third reading.

Senator Gowan, chairman of the special committee on the part of the senate, under senate concurrent resolution No. 14, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 23, 1895. }

Mr. President:

Your committee, appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 14, to investigate the conduct, management, and affairs of the state military board and the Oregon national guard, have performed that duty and append herewith a full and complete report of the condition of the board and the national guard generally. An expert accountant has been employed and a thorough investigation made. The condition of the national guard is much better than ever before in the history of the state, there being at present one hundred and fifty-five officers and one thousand four hundred and sixty-two enlisted men. The accounts of the board have been well kept and the appropriations economically expended. The report in detail is as follows:

We find the affairs of the Oregon national guard are administered by the military board, composed of five members, namely, Gen. H. B. Compson, president; Col. R. W. Mitchell, secretary. Col. M. E. Freeman, Col. F. V. Drake, and Col. A. L. Saylor, who, upon taking office, found the Oregon national guard in a very bad condition, but who, by their thorough administration, have brought them from a state of chaos to an efficiency that is seldom excelled, the guard being in debt to the amount of nearly seventeen thousand dollars which has since been canceled and paid, and in particular is this state of affairs due to Brigadier-General H. B. Compson, and his efficient brigade inspector and acting assistant adjutant-general, Capt. M. G. Butterfield, and Brevet Lieut.-Col. James Jackson, United States Army, who have personally and carefully inspected, annually, each and every organization of the Oregon national guard, traveling about three thousand five hundred miles to do so, and deserve great credit for the same.

We find a large amount of work has been done by the board in the organizing, arming, and uniforming the state troops, of which there are now three regiments of infantry, as follows: First regiment of nine companies; second regiment of eight companies; third regiment of six companies; separate battalion of two companies, which was detached from the second regiment May 17, 1893; two troops of cavalry, "B" and "A," and one battery ("A") of artillery,—twenty-eight companies in all, this being five companies less than the maximum allowed by our state law and approved by the governor. The amounts so allowed are audited by the secretary of state and are paid by the adjutant-general, acting paymaster-general, and vouchers for all accounts paid out of the military fund are now on file in the office of the secretary of state and receipts on file in the adjutant-general's office.

We find that when the present incumbent took office on October 10, 1891, there was one book of one hundred and thirty-eight letters in the office, which has since increased to over five thousand. Of orders there were but eighty, while at the present time there are of special orders two hundred and nine, and of general orders twenty-seven.

The national guard at the last biennial report for 1891 and 1892, had a maximum strength of one hundred and seven officers and one thousand three hundred and seventeen enlisted men, and who were very poorly uniformed and equipped, and have now a maximum strength of one hundred and fifty-five officers and one thousand four hundred and sixty-two enlisted men, fully uniformed, armed, and equipped, as is shown by the appended returns of United States and state property.

There have been ten companies disbanded in the last two years because they had been reduced in numbers below the minimum, and for other causes disclosed by regular quarterly inspection. The number of blank forms used at that time was thirteen. There are now in use, and absolutely necessary, fifty-two forms, exclusive of commissions.

The system of bookkeeping now in use consists of keeping minutes of military board in a record-book, which shows the acts and allowances made by the military board, which is then segregated into an account-book or ledger, where each item is placed under a proper heading, so that at a glance any item can be found.

The number of record-books on hand at that time were one book of proceedings of military board. The books now in use are one record-book of proceedings of military board, one account-book, one record-book of commissions since organization, showing the name, rank, organization, date of rank, bondsmen, date of issue, term of service, and whether same has transpired or not, and total number of same, warrant-book, property-book of United States and state property, and one descriptive record-book. All letters formerly received were pasted in stubbook, now they are kept in alphabetical order in Amburg's letter file, convenient for reference. Letters sent are now copied by letterpress. This state of affairs is due to the efficiency of the adjutant-general, R. W. Mitchell, who has inaugurated many reforms and corrected many abuses. The Oregon national guard are uniformed in United States army fatigue uniform, of which thirty-three thousand four hundred and sixty dollars' worth was manufactured in Oregon and six thousand five hundred and forty dollars' worth was purchased outside of this state. The prices paid are lower than that of any other state and even than that paid by the United States, and are as follows, viz.: Overcoats, eleven dollars each; trousers, infantry, three dollars and twenty-five cents each; trousers, cavalry and artillery, three dollars and forty cents each; stripes, corporal's, forty-five cents each; stripes, sergeant's, seventy cents each; stripes, musician's, ninety cents to one dollar each; blouses, three dollars and ninety-nine cents each; caps, seventy-two cents each; cap ornaments, five and one half cents each; leggings, per pair, fifty-five cents each; hospital steward's stripes, per pair, one dollar and fifty cents; sewing on same, seventy cents each; artillery stripes, fifty to seventy cents each; Brassard's hospital corps stripes, forty-five cents each; blankets, three dollars and fifty cents per pair; United States saddle blankets, three dollars and fifty cents each; saddles, eleven dollars and sixty-eight cents each; bridles, five dollars and ninety-two cents each; spurs and straps, one dollar; noncommissioned officers' swords, four dollars each; campaign hats, one dollar and twenty-two and one half cents each; revolvers, twelve dollars and ten cents each. We also find that all uniforms and equipments are carefully inspected by the inspector-general, Col. C. M. Freeman, and other experts before they are accepted and paid for.

The cost of maintenance per annum for the last two years has been (outside of new uniforms and equipments which will last with ordinary care at least six years,) a trifle less than thirteen dollars per man, and the Oregon national guard are now in condition to take the field at an hour's notice, while the cost in our sister states, Washington and California, average respectively forty-nine dollars and sixty-five dollars per man.

We also find in the cost of rents and allowances per company, that while in this state it is but twenty-five dollars per month, those of California are one hundred dollars per month; also in the salary and cost of running the adjutant-general's office we in this state come below that of other states, California having an adjutant-general at three thousand five hundred dollars, and an assistant adjutant-general at one thousand five hundred dollars, and three clerks at one thousand dollars each per annum, while the adjutant-general of Oregon receives but one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and no clerks, and the cost per capita is less than that of other states in the union, excepting Nebraska, Arkansas, and Mississippi, which two latter states do not maintain a national guard organization. We have gone (with the assistance of our expert and other clerks), over all the books, records, and returns, and bills, and find the adjutant-general's biennial report compares with that of our accounting except in court-martial expenses. We found in the records of the military board, in the adjutant-general's account-book, under the head of court-martial expenses, several items amounting to one hundred and forty-seven dollars and seventy-seven cents which had been allowed by the military board and paid after the adjutant-general had made up his report. This was explained by the adjutant-general.

We also found errors in matter of appropriation which the adjutant-general reports as one hundred and four thousand dollars, namely, sixty-four thousand dollars for the years 1893 and 1894, (but according to the secretary of state's report is sixty-two thousand and fifty-two dollars and seventy-two cents,) and forty thousand dollars special appropriation for equipment and uniforms.

We also found that the military board has made some allowances which your committee thought illegal and not in compliance with the law, but upon consulting counsel we found that they had not overstepped their legal limits; but still it is a question for the courts to settle.

Your committee, to ascertain a thorough understanding of the efficiency of the different organizations, ordered inspections of the first regiment and battery A, stationed at Portland, and of companies B, I, and H of the second regiment, stationed at Salem. As per appended reports, it will be seen that in the case of the first regiment, on a twelve hours' notice, turned out eighty-four per cent. of its total strength, or three hundred and thirty-four out of four hundred and seven, which is, in the opinion of your committee, an excellent showing. The regiment was commanded by Col. C. F. Beebe, who is a very efficient officer, and was duly inspected. They were drilled and went through many evolutions very creditable to them. This command is well officered, and is a credit to the state. We found this regiment fully uniformed, armed, and equipped. In the case of battery A, upon the same order, turned out seventy-two and three fourths per cent., or thirty-two out of forty-four. This battery is commanded by Capt. R. S. Greenleaf, a very competent officer, and the battery is well versed in the tactics and can be depended upon.

In the case of the battalion of the second regiment companies, B, H, and I, and band, they turned out, upon a twenty-four hours' notice, eighty-six per cent., or one hundred and twenty out of a total of one hundred and forty-six. This long notice was given, as a great many of the men live at considerable distance from the armory. Maj. D. C. Sherman, commanding, is a very good officer and handles his men well. This command was duly inspected and drilled in manual and evolutions, and considering that there were many recruits in the ranks, they made a very creditable showing. But your committee found one company (H) of this battalion who are below the minimum limit of forty men, they having (as per report appended) an enrolled strength of thirty-three; and you committee would respectfully recommend that they be granted until April 1st to recruit up to minimum number, and if they should not be able to do so by that time that they be consolidated with one of the other two companies or be disbanded.

It was noticed by your committee that five members of the regimental band were not properly uniformed, which should be attended to by the proper officers. Your committee is of the opinion that this band is an unnecessary expense to the state and should be disbanded. The amount of money paid into the military fund has been small when the expense of uniforming and equipping this large body of men is considered, and entirely insufficient to carry out all the provisions of the military law, especially in the matter of encampment. Your committee believe that the fund has been carefully and economically expended.

We also find that the military board gave the purchasing power of uniforming and equipping the Oregon national guard in the hands of one officer, namely, the acting quartermaster-general, which is against all established rules and regulations, and is establishing a bad precedent. The purchasing should be done by a board of not less than two or more bonded officers.

We also respectfully report that we have investigated the merit in the matter of the court-martial of Col. S. L. Lovell, and are of the opinion that if the accused officer is guilty of any of the charges and specifications as found by the court, proceedings should at once be instituted against him. If not, he should be honorably discharged.

The various companies have at different times advanced money for their current expenses, which had been refunded to the limit of the law at the December special meeting of the military board, and the Oregon national guard is virtually out of debt, fully armed and equipped (or are purchased and supplies are en route to do so), and ready for any military duty required of them. We, your committee, respectfully recommend that the national guard be reduced to not less than twenty nor more than twenty-four companies, which should be done at such times as their terms of enlistment expire of the surplus companies.

In closing this report, we, your committee, cannot help but to state that the thanks of the people of this state are due to Gen. H. B. Compson and the officers and men of the Oregon national guard for the efficiency and promptness with which they have answered all calls for military duty, without seek of gain or recompense, and also to all officers, civic and military, upon whom your committee has had occasion to make calls while in the line of their duty in making this investigation. And we, your committee, would be neglectful of our duty if we failed to give honorable mention to that efficient, faithful, and untiring officer, Brevet Lieut-Col. James Jackson, U. S. A., United States inspector and instructor for this state, who has been untiring and indefatigable in his endeavors to bring the Oregon national guard to a basis second to none, and which your committee can safely say he has well done; after a term of three years, during which he has honored this state with his mature and experienced advice, the people of this state, as well as the officers and members of the Oregon national guard, should tender him a vote of thanks, and also endeavor, by all means, to have him retained in the service of this state longer, and we, your committee, would respectfully and most urgently recommend that His Excellency, Governor Wm. P. Lord, be petitioned to respectfully petition the president of the United States to have him retained in his present post in this state, and this should be done at once, as there is a move on foot to have him sent to another station.

While pursuing our investigation we were compelled to make a call on Capt. H. E. Mitchell, brigade quartermaster for the United States and state property in his charge, and we had to incur an expense of six dollars and fifty cents for his mileage and per diem, for which proper vouchers have been handed to proper senate committee for auditing and allowance.

Appended are itemized financial report and returns of all property now in possession of the Oregon national guard, and consolidated returns of all officers and enlisted men, also itemized statement by organizations of all moneys appropriated and expended during the last biennial term ending December 31, 1894, and filed with the secretary of state.

Respectfully submitted.

Whereas the secretary of state in his biennial report to this legislature calls attention to the fact that the first and second edition of a pamphlet entitled "The Resources of Oregon," are entirely exhausted, having been distributed abroad for the purpose of inducing immigration to this state; and, whereas, there is great demand for literature treating on the resources of this state from parties abroad who are contemplating seeking homes in the west; and, whereas, the report of the Oregon world's fair commission to this legislature contains much information that will prove of value to intending immigrants if revised and published by authority of the state for free distribution; therefore, be it report, when revised, to contain also illustrations of the Oregon exhibits at the world's fair.

Resolved, further, That the treasurer of state be, and is hereby, authorized to secure the services of some capable and competent person to perform the work of revision, and he, the said treasurer of state, is further directed to cause the said revised report to be distributed free and to the best advantage, to the end that the greatest benefit may redound to our state in directing the attention of those people abroad who are desirous of seeking profitable investment and future homes.
